HEARING AGAINST NORTHERN SECURITIES CO.

By Associated Press.

St Paul, Minn, Oct 23.—The hearing in this city of Special Examiner ... Ingersoll, appointed to take testimony in the suit of the United States against the Northern Securities company, the Great Northern ... and the Northern Pacific Railway companies and others under the Sherman anti-trust law was concluded [illegible]. It ... taken to New York Nov ... 10 next, when the examination of several witnesses residing in [illegible] will be [illegible]. The hearing in this city has lasted four days, President Hill of the Great Northern, ... Harris of the Burlington and Mellen of the Northern Pacific being the ... witnesses. The other witnesses were Col W P Clough, vice president and counsel of the Northern Securities company, and Frederick Weyerhauser, the big lumberman. [illegible] Clough and President Mellen [illegible] the entire day was devoted to the [illegible] the government attorneys giving particular attention to the [illegible] of joint rates [illegible] tariffs having been [illegible] into the record.

Colonel Clough was on the stand [illegible] Assistant Attorney General Beck seeking the reason why the Northern Securities company had been incorporated in New Jersey. Colonel Clough explained that it was because the corporation laws of that state [illegible] judicially passed on, interpreted [illegible] validity established, while [illegible] of New York under which it was at one time thought possible to incorporate and which are similar to the New Jersey statutes, were new laws and had not yet been sustained by the courts. He denied that the Northern Pacific stockholders had been consulted before the articles of the Northern Securities company were filed but admitted that J. Pierpont Morgan, a large holder of Northern Pacific, and D. Willis James and other holders in both roads had been consulted before arrangements were made and consented to put their stock in a home company. Much time was given to questions regarding the capital stock of the Great Northern, all of which Colonel Clough said had been sold at [illegible] stockholder for cash or its [illegible] and he insisted that the $1,000,000 par value of Great Northern stock bought by the Securities company represented a genuine valuation and not any inflated valuation. The Securities company hold proxies for all Northern Pacific and Great Northern stock deposited. He admitted that this was in both cases a majority and that there was nothing to prevent the election of identical boards of directors of both roads except the laws of the country which positively forbid such

NEW SPANISH MINISTER PRESENTED CREDENTIALS

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct [illegible] Senor [illegible] Ojeda, the recently appointed minister of Spain to the United States, formally presented his credentials to President Roosevelt today.

Minister Ojeda was [illegible] to the White House by Secretary of State Hay, who conducted him directly to the president. After the usual exchange of [illegible] Senor Ojeda [illegible] Mr Ojeda [illegible] said that the [illegible] of the Spanish government was to cultivate [illegible] sentiments of [illegible] for the [illegible] relations between the two nations.

President Roosevelt's reply was as follows:

"Mr Minister: Recalling the warm friendship which from the earliest days of our national life existed between the United States and Spain, it gives me sincere gratification to welcome you as the envoy of his majesty the king of Spain and to accept the royal letters you bring [illegible] you in the capacity.

"I offer you cordial co-operation in all that may tend to realize our common desire for lasting amity and increasingly advantageous intercourse between this republic and the Castilian [illegible].

"I trust Mr Minister that like your predecessor you will win regard and esteem among us and receive in your own person constant evidences of the sentiments of friendliness that our people feel toward your people."

ARRANGEMENTS FOR GETTING COAL WHERE MOST NEEDED

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Oct [illegible] In view of the resumption of mining of anthracite coal the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company tonight issued the following statement addressed to C. D. Henderson, general manager:

"The reports of the superintendents in charge of mines show that as a result of the strike the mines and mining plants have sustained considerable injury and [illegible] working organizations have [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] as far as practicable [illegible] to those who are willing to sell coal to the public at reasonable prices. Where dealers seek to obtain an unfair profit from the public we will promptly take steps to supply the reasonable demands of the public directly.

"George F Baer, President."

In pursuance of instructions contained in the above letter [illegible]

An effort will be made to arrange the distribution of coal [illegible] small portions [illegible]

UNEXPECTED DIFFICULTIES IN RESUMPTION OF MINING

By Associated Press.

Wilkesbarre, Pa, Oct [illegible] The resumption of mining [illegible]

[illegible] Lehigh Valley coal company [illegible]

The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company took the lead in production. Their collieries are in better condition than the mines operated by the other big companies. An increase of at least 20 per cent in the output is to be looked for tomorrow. About one half the mines of the Delaware & Hudson company were working and the output of those in operation [illegible]

It looks as though the union engineers were going to have some difficulty in getting back their old places. At nearly every mine where the striking engineers made application for work today they were told that there were no vacancies. A large number of carpenters [illegible] President Mitchell today advised the men to wait a few days and [illegible] employment would not be offered them. He believes that when general resumption takes place there will be few of the old men out of employment.

Great preparations are under way for the celebration of Mitchell day in this city on October 29.

[illegible] COLLIERIES [illegible] SCRANTON REOPENED

By Associated Press.

Scranton, Pa, Oct 23.—At about half the collieries in this section a practically full force of men was put to work today. At all except a few a portion of the men were sent in. Falls of roof which blockaded the roadways were responsible in most cases for only a part of the force being re-employed. The falls can be cleared up in a few days and then the remaining portion of the men will be sent in. Breakers as a rule did not work but tomorrow will likely see none of them idle for want of coal. Every breaker that could possibly be worked was in operation. With the exception of the Halstead which has been abandoned, and the Sloan and Central where the new switches are being laid all the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western collieries made a start.

Superintendent Rose of the Delaware & Hudson company stated that all his company's places north of Scranton except the Clinton, in Wayne county, made a start.

Richmond No. 4 colliery of the Ontario & Western company did not get under way. The men refused to work because it was alleged that non-union engineers are not trustworthy and the descent is extremely dangerous because of 15 feet of water in the shaft, the mine having been flooded to extinguish a fire.

[illegible] CHAMBERS MAKES [illegible] REPLY

Says Republicans Don't Care to Put Up Expenses of Democratic Defense of Thirteenth Assembly and Suggests Themes for Democratic Speakers.

Republican County Chairman E. L. Chambers yesterday sent a reply to Chairman George Bernard of the Democratic committee on the subject of a debate between Democratic and Republican candidates for the legislature on the subject of the Thirteenth general assembly.

The reply speaks for itself as follows:

Hon. George Bernard,
Chairman Democratic County Central Committee,
City.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of October [illegible] requesting a joint debate between the legislative candidates on the subject of the Thirteenth general assembly of Colorado.

Prior to receipt of your communication our committee arranged meetings occupying almost every night until the close of the campaign for our candidates. We do not think it wise or advisable to undertake a discussion of this subject for a subject wholly and is not a fit subject for joint discussion. Besides, we are advised and believe that your party is unable to procure respectable-sized audiences at their rallies, consequently we do not care to contribute money or time to assist them in defending themselves upon subjects of which they are rightfully, as we believe, adjudged guilty in the minds of an outraged people.

In your communication you state that Republican speakers criticise the Thirteenth general assembly in a general way and fail to specifically point out the bad. I do not know how this committee can assist you in your present dilemma. I would advise, however, that you hire a hall and if possible secure an audience, give your ambitious statesman, presumptively Mr. Charles Sprague, a copy of the Republican text book for Colorado, a book of general circulation, a copy of which I herewith hand you, refer him to pages 16 to 26 inclusive, and let him explain the appropriation of $[illegible] commonly called the "grab fund," and see if he can bring honor and credit to himself as a representative of the Thirteenth general assembly or to the Thirteenth general assembly [illegible].

[illegible] ing of the Legislative District [illegible] by [illegible] and [illegible] explain [illegible] why Republicans in El Paso county [illegible] with Fusion [illegible] ticket instead of having [illegible] El Paso county alone [illegible] the Thirteenth general assembly have what honor and credit they can get for the passage of this bill and the attempt at disenfranchisement of El Paso county in the state [illegible].

[illegible] of the [illegible] by the Thirteenth general assembly [illegible] books [illegible] by the district [illegible] constitutional [illegible] of that assembly [illegible] and take what credit he and the Thirteenth general assembly can get by explaining [illegible] in that particular [illegible].

You might again [illegible] not be [illegible] confession [illegible] Thirteenth general assembly [illegible] the calling of extra session [illegible] assembly [illegible] expense of not [illegible] than $[illegible] to the people of the state of Colorado, and let him explain [illegible] at the extra session and [illegible] what credit and honor he and the assembly can get from that extra session, and having [illegible] suggest that you attend some of our good Republican meetings and [illegible] hear specific charges truthfully made sufficient to [illegible] candidates to renew again their ambitions to resign from your ticket and to cause thousands of Democratic voters to either vote the Republican ticket or stay away from the polls in disgust.

Yours respectfully,
E. L. Chambers,
Chairman.

The Laceys Want More

Specific Information

Attorneys for the defendants in the case of Ellen M. Bentley vs. James L. Lacey and Thomas Lacey, the suit for $2,000 which the plaintiff claims her husband lost over the defendants' gaming tables yesterday filed in the district court a motion to have the complaint made more specific and certain. They want the plaintiff to set forth the exact date she was the owner of and in possession of $2,000 as she claims in her complaint and when she intrusted it to Charles Bentley. They also want the dates between September 1, 1899, and July 1, 1900, upon which it is claimed he lost the money specified and at least at different times to state the dates and amount lost each time and to whom the money was paid. They also desire to have the names of each game of chance stated as well as the name of the person with whom Bentley played at each game the amount lost at each and to whom he paid the money. They also want to know of what law the gaming was in violation and whether the plaintiff sues the defendants as copartners or as individuals.

Lady Struck By Horse

on Pike's Peak Avenue

An old lady was run over and knocked down by a horse and carriage at the corner of Pike's Peak and Cascade early last evening. The horse turned the corner at a rapid gait and the old lady did not see it coming in time. She was knocked down and rolled about the street but the driver continued on his way without apparently diminishing speed although bystanders called to him to stop. The old lady was not seriously injured although the shock frightened her quite badly. She was able to continue on her way.

The driver of the horse is said to have been H. W. Wyman.

The festivities attending the marriage of Miss Fannie Ottenheimer to Mr. Joseph Israel of Raton, N. M., occurred last night in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ottenheimer, 927 North Weber street, in the presence of about 60 relatives and friends.

The house was elaborately decked for the occasion. The reception hall was profusely festooned with nasturtiums and autumnal foliage. Prior's orchestra was stationed in an alcove and furnished the customary bridal melodies. The parlor, where Rev. Dr. W. T. Wise, rabbi from Pueblo, performed the ceremony, was trimmed with asparagus plumosa palms and ferns. A floral umbrella of vines and pink and white sweet peas was suspended above the bridal party. Pearl Berger, niece of the bride, and Mildred Mendelssohn preceded and were the only attendants of the bride.

The bride was very attractive in a lovely gown of white valenciennes lace over white satin de chine, a full tulle veil and bouquet of bride's roses. After the service at 5 o'clock an elaborate banquet was served at several long tables seating all the guests. White and green predominated in the decorations and refreshments. Beside each cover were white or green crepe paper souvenirs cleverly simulating swans holding pieces of wedding cake.

The guests lingered at the table while Mr. M. S. Rafield presided at toastmaster and nearly every guest happily offered a felicitous toast to the health and happiness of the bride and groom.

Congratulatory telegrams and valuable gifts were showered upon the popular young couple, who left last night for their future home, Raton, N. M., where the groom is a prosperous business man.

Among the relatives or friends from out of town were Mrs. H. Berger of Malvern, Ark., sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. S. Mendelssohn, La Junta, Colo.; Mrs. Mendelssohn is a sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sloan, La Junta; Mrs. Peltason, St. Louis; Miss Lena Gutman, New York; Miss Florence March, San Antonio, Texas. The unavoidable absence of Miss Cecilia Goldsmith of Pittsburg, Pa., was a great disappointment as she is an intimate friend of the bride. Miss Goldsmith was called east very suddenly on Wednesday night.

WITCH HAZEL

Dickenson's Double Distilled.

Dickenson also makes a "Standard" Witch Hazel, but it is a lower grade than the double distilled. These distillers tell us that the "Standard" is the grade sold by most druggists, perhaps this accounts for the enormous and growing sale that we have for this Double Distilled Witch Hazel, because it is the best Witch Hazel made, and we do not dilute it.

We have it put up in ½-pints, 15c; pints, 25c; quarts 50c.

Compare this Witch Hazel with Pond's Extract (which costs three times as much.)

HESTER WILL BE EXAMINED TODAY

And if He Is Found Good Boulder Will Associate With Him.

TO BE ON TRIAL AT DENVER

Annual Controversy Over Officials Is on—In the Meantime Sale of Seats Is Progressing Fast and Big Crowd Is Assured.

Hester, a member of the football squad of Colorado college, will be tried in Denver this afternoon. He is accused by the State university of being a professional and they will endeavor at the trial today to prove their accusations before the State Athletic association. The trial will take place at the club house of the Denver Athletic club at 2:30. Captain Tryon and Manager Van Nest will go with Hester this morning to attend the trial. Under the rules of the association the Boulderites will have to prove their assertions as to Hester's standing and unless this can be done to the satisfaction of the association Hester will be allowed to play in the games.

The question of professionalism in Colorado college football has been discussed at considerable length and it is needless to say that Hester will be acquitted of the charge made against him by the State university. It has already been proved that the charges made against the college two years ago were purely for a joke and it has been stated by a number of the students at the university since the present charges against Hester, Horgan, Pryor, Shaw and Mead were made that it was also for the purpose of stirring up a little excitement in football circles.

It is very unfortunate for Boulder that she should have made these charges at this time as it has made the college more determined than ever to find the game.

The usual wrangle about officials for the game is being experienced. The fact that this wrangle is already on may result in the selection of the officials before the hour for the game arrives, but it generally does not. It is said that an agreement as to [illegible] of Greeley was reached yesterday after [illegible] phone conversation but last night it was reported that Boulder had kicked over the traces again as to him and that no agreement whatever was reached.

After delaying a lot of matter, the time for the closing up of the matter had passed the Boulder management wired the college the names of Stearns, Thompson, Folsom, Fonda and Gamble, all of whom have been rejected. The college furnished the names of Lester, Hardwell, Abernathy, Smith and Mason, all of whom Boulder promptly turned down. Boulder later suggested Risley of Denver and is it not unlikely that the college will agree to him on condition that Boulder agree on Abernathe. The latter who has had more experience in Colorado in the last five seasons than any other three of those named combined, and who was sent for from Boulder last Saturday as an official for the Boulder-Fort Collins game, put Tonkin, Boulder's captain, off the side lines at the outset for unnecessary roughness and Boulder's hesitancy to accept him now as eagerly as she sought him a week ago may be due to this fact. The friends of the university here incline to the idea that he is as good as he was a week ago however and that if the college will take Risley the matter can be brought to an agreement today.

The college players are all in good condition with the exception of Kitely and Brennan who are still slightly under the weather. In view of the fact that the Boulder team is at the present time a refuge for cripples the locals think that the injuries of these men will not in any way affect their chances of winning even if these men should not be able to play Saturday.

Last night's practice will conclude the heavy work previous to the game. Coach Caldwell is giving the men training in signal practice and trick plays every evening at the gymnasium but no heavy work will be done until the day of the game.

The fact that the sale of seats is progressing at a very satisfactory rate this early in the week indicates the interest that has been aroused in the approaching game. It is generally conceded that the game Saturday will be the heaviest one of the year as far as the championship games are concerned and the attendance is expected to be large accordingly. Tickets are on sale at Coburn library, Strang's and at the stores of the Hazlitt Cigar Co. on Tejon street and on Pike's Peak avenue.

HARVARD WINS

By Associated Press.

Morristown, N. J., Oct. 22.—Princeton led Harvard by nine holes to three in the first half final round of the intercollegiate Golf association today at the Morris County Golf club but by clever uphill work the team from Cambridge won out finally by ten points to six and a half. Harvard was chiefly aided by the good work of the two westerners, H. C. and W. E. Egan, although the team captain, A. M. Brown, also scored and W. Chick halved his match.

The winning team gains the possession of the championship trophy until next fall and each of its players receives a souvenir medal.

O'NEILL SAYS THE NATIONAL SHALL [illegible]

American Will Invade New York Next Season to a Certainty.

CANTILLON NOW IN MILWAUKEE

Will Take Charge of the American Association in the Cream City and Will Add Great Strength to That Organization

N. I. O'Neill, who is acting as advance man for the All American All-National baseball teams, arrived in the city last evening and he brings some interesting news in connection with the Western league-American association war in Milwaukee. Mr. O'Neill states that Joe Cantillon, the famous American league umpire, is to take charge of the association team in the Cream City, displacing the present management. Mr. Cantillon umpired in the American throughout last season and is at present traveling with the All American-All National aggregation in the same capacity. He is one of the best known men in the baseball world and the announcement that he will take hold of the association affairs in Milwaukee is certain to be a big thing for the association although it may not affect in any measure the Western league under Hugh Duffy's management.

Mr. Cantillon is interested in a business at Janesville just outside Milwaukee and it is said that all the time he has been engaged as umpire in the American league it was a detriment to his business. He is highly popular in the brewery town. Ever since the close of the baseball season the management of the American association team there has been at war and Mr. Cantillon is undoubtedly brought in as a peacemaker.

Mr. O'Neill believes that the American league will certainly invade New York and he does not look for [illegible] between the big leagues in the very near future. He thinks that Ban Johnson will be able to secure grounds without much trouble in Brush's new stronghold and that the National will be beaten. New York has been for a long time regarded as the old league's last hope. Baltimore will be the American league town dropped, in Mr. O'Neill's opinion. He does not look for any expansion so far as the number of teams is concerned in either of the major leagues.

ON THE DOOR-STEP OF THE SMART SET

TWO PUGILISTIC EVENTS WERE PULLED OFF LAST NIGHT

"Lefty" Butler, "Pete" Bell, "Skin" Cassidy and "Kid" Bell Were the Principals in Eight Rounds of Pugilistic Sport

Two rattling good mills were pulled off last night at the Columbia barn corner of Columbia and Tejon in the heart of the fashionable residence center. They were announced to be purely for exhibition purposes and were witnessed by a small crowd. The excuse for the battles was a raffle in which a horse was the prize, the fights being supposed to be merely side issues. A man named Anderson captured the horse.

Lefty Butler, a clever youngster who used to battle around Florence and other parts of the state, and Pete Bell went four rounds as a preliminary, the decision being a draw. It was a very clever exhibition of the fistic art. The wind up was a four round go between "Skin" Cassidy and "Kid" Bell, the latter a colored youngster. This was more the real thing although it ended in a draw after a hammer and tongs exhibition to the limit.

The fashionable residents of the district were probably not aware that followers of the fistic art had thrown their roped arena at their very doors and were pounding one another with padded mitts but the spectators enjoyed the events thoroughly.

"KID" NICHOLS SAYS WEIMER AND GIBSON MAY NOT GO

Charles A. Nichols, manager of the Kansas City Western league baseball team, winners of the 1902 pennant, and J. H. McCarthy, outfielder of the Cleveland team of the American league and one of the stars of the organization, are at the Alamo for a few days. They have been playing ball at Albuquerque and El Paso with picked teams representing those cities. Both men are accompanied by their wives.

Speaking of his team for next year the "Kid" says that while he has not yet signed any new players he expects to do so in a short time. He says he may lose two of his strongest pitchers in Weimer, who is booked for the Chicago Nationals, and Norwood Gibson, who may go to Boston, but there is still a possibility that he may retain them on account of the salary question. Robinson, his star third baseman, is to go to Washington and the loss of that player is somewhat of a setback to the western champions, which will soon be made good, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy will make a trip to Cripple Creek today to see the sights there.

PLAYING THE ALL STARS FOR MONDAY'S GAME

American and National League All Stars Will Be in the City.

O'NEILL WAS HERE YESTERDAY

Says the Teams Are Playing Sensational Ball in Every Game and That Bill Everitt Will Umpire the Game

E. H. O'Neill, advance agent of the American and All National baseball teams that are scheduled to play an exhibition game in this city on Monday, spent the day in the city yesterday completing arrangements with Howard Mason, secretary of the local Western league club, for the game. Mr. O'Neill, who is one of the oldest baseball men in the country and has been a sporting writer on some of the larger eastern papers, is very well pleased over the conditions that the two teams have received at the games that have been played so far this season. Every town in which we play," said Mr. O'Neill at the Alamo last night, "has turned out in force to witness the game and the fact that we are already over $1,000 ahead of the game is proof enough of the sensation that the trip of the two teams is creating. The two teams are the hitter rival on the baseball diamond is are the two leagues to which they belong on the other question and [illegible] rest assured that there are no games in which good hard playing does not form a big feature.

"There's our old friend Napoleon Lajoie, the star second baseman of the American league and one of the best batters that ever came down the pike, who will form a big drawing card. Lajoie alone is well worth the price of admission to meet and the fact that all the other bright stars of the game in the country are to be here should cause a record breaking crowd to turn out, judging by the attendance at the games that have been played so far. Lajoie, Delehanty, Jake Cross, Jones, Chesbro, Tannehill and the whole bunch will be here."

The teams played yesterday at Topeka, Kas., and will play today at Newton in the same state. On Saturday and Sunday they will play exhibitions before the critical Denver fans and Monday they will arrive in Colorado Springs. The management is preparing to handle the largest crowd that ever assembled at Boulevard park on that day. From here the teams will go down to Pueblo, Trinidad, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, N. M., down through Arizona, through Southern California, working up the coast to San Francisco where a number of games will be played. After filling the engagement at San Francisco the organization will go to Honolulu where another large series of games will be played. Further than this no plans have been made.

Mr. O'Neill will leave this morning for Denver, returning here tomorrow on his way to Pueblo and Trinidad. He will precede the team all around the route, transacting the advance work for Joe Cantillon, who is the head push of the two organizations on their present tour of the country.

Before leaving, Mr. O'Neill announced that "Old Bill" Everitt, the millionaire mine owner, captain and first baseman of the local club, would take charge of the few complaints as to balls and strikes, outs and safeties, and other things that may arise during the course of the game.

OFFERING OF BONDS AND STOCKS

OF

THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

PAYMENTS TO BE MADE IN INSTALLMENTS OR AT SUBSCRIBERS' OPTION.

Denver, Colorado, October 21, 1902.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company has contracted with THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY to build and equip approximately 500 miles of its railroad between Denver, Colorado, and Salt Lake City, Utah. The contract provides for a substantial roadbed, steel rails eighty pounds per yard, and a modern standard passenger and freight rolling stock equipment. Payments under this contract are to be made in the bonds and stock of the Railway Company which are now offered for subscription.

Under the provisions of the construction contract there will be issued by the Railway Company to the Construction Company $20,000 and no more of the first mortgage 4 per cent bonds of the Railway Company and $20,000 par value of its full-paid preferred stock and $20,000 par value of its full paid common stock for each mile of main track railroad as it is built, equipped and turned over to the Railway Company for operation.

The authorized capital stock of the Railway Company is $20,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is 5 per cent non-cumulative preferred stock and $10,000,000 is common stock.

The first mortgage of the Railway Company to THE MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY, of New York, provides for an issue not exceeding $12,500,000 of Fifty Year Four Per Cent Gold Bonds, of which issue the balance of $2,500,000, remaining after the payments to be made under the construction contract, will be held in reserve by the Railway Company.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company will receive through

The Mercantile Trust Company, New York City;
Providence Banking Company, Providence, R. I.
Commercial Trust Company, Philadelphia, Pa., and
The International Trust Company, Denver, Colorado,

applications for subscriptions in $1,000, and multiples of $1,000, to the bonds and stocks of THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY above mentioned until November 16, 1902, after which no further applications will be received.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company reserves the right to scale down or to reject any and all applications.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

The terms of the subscription agreement which is to be signed by the parties whose applications shall be accepted by the undersigned provide that payment shall be called in as money is required by the Construction Company for the purpose of fulfilling its contract with the Railway Company, but that in no event shall the subscribers be required to pay more than 10 per cent of their subscriptions in any one month, but that each subscriber shall have the option to pay the whole amount subscribed at once.

Each subscriber will receive, as provided in the subscription agreement, for each $950 paid, a

$1,000 4 per cent. 50-Year First Mortgage Gold Bond of the Railway Company
$250 par value of the Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, and
$250 par value of the Common Stock of the Railway Company.

Until the bonds and stock of the Railway Company are engraved, executed and received by the Construction Company under the terms of its contract with the Railway Company, the Construction Company will issue to the subscribers, as any payment is made upon their subscriptions, its receipts providing for the payment of interest from the date of such payment at the rate of 4 per cent per annum until the bonds and stock subscribed for are ready for delivery to the subscribers, subject to adjustment to be made as to any interest then accrued upon such bonds.

The one half of the common and preferred stock of the Railway Company not offered for subscription will be owned by the Construction Company.

The subscription agreement, a pamphlet containing a description and map of the route, copies of the mortgage securing the bonds, the construction contract and copies of the Engineer's report and estimate, and an estimate of earnings and expenses may be inspected at the agencies above enumerated or at the office of the undersigned, where forms of application may be obtained upon request in person or by mail.

Upon careful examination of the traffic conditions of the various railways in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, having regard to the revenue derived from the transportation of ores, coal, lumber, cattle, general merchandise and passengers, it is conservatively estimated that the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific Railway Company will secure, as soon as completed, gross earnings of at least $8,000 NET EARNINGS OF $4,200 PER MILE PER ANNUM, and that this revenue will annually increase. This estimate is irrespective of any through travel or freight. The bond issue (exclusive of the $2,500,000 in par value thereof reserved which it is expected will not be required to be issued) is limited to $40,000 per mile of completed and equipped railroad, upon which the ANNUAL INTEREST CHARGE WILL BE $1,600 or ONLY ONE-HALF OF THE ESTIMATED NET EARNINGS.

The above offer is made upon the terms above stated, subject to advance or withdrawal without notice, and the undersigned recommends the bonds and stock of THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY as a safe and profitable investment.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company,
By SYLVESTER T. SMITH,
President.

Denver, Colorado, October, 20, 1902.

TO THE PUBLIC:

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway Company is organized, not to invade the territory of any other railroad company, but to open to development and traffic a region in Northwestern Colorado and Eastern Utah, larger than the state of Pennsylvania, which is now without a single mile of railroad. This region is rich in deposits of gold, silver, lead, copper and iron ores, and of bituminous and anthracite coal. In it are large forests of timber and broad areas of grazing lands and of lands capable of irrigation and cultivation. There are large streams and an abundance of water on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains in the valleys through which this railway will be operated. This local business developed and to be developed upon the new railway should render the enterprise a profitable one, independent of any through traffic. When the new road is completed the distance over it between Denver and Salt Lake City will be more than one hundred miles shorter than by any other route, and the grades and alignment upon this railway will be more favorable than upon any other railway crossing the Continental Divide in Colorado.

President.

OLD SOLDIERS RESENT ATTACKS ON COMRADES

Will Protect Their Right of Suffrage by All Legal Means---Mr. Bryan as a Political Prophet---Brief News Items of the State and the Capital.

Denver Bureau,
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 23.—The following resolutions have been given out for publication:

"Headquarters Soldiers' and Sailors' Republican club, room 15, Gettysburg building, Denver, Colo., Oct. 21, 1902.

"Whereas, We have been informed that Comrade Alexander McLean, a member of this club, was assaulted and severely injured at the county court house in this city while attempting in a lawful manner to have his name and that of an invalid wife correctly registered, the assault being made by one assuming to act as an officer connected with the registration, and, we learn, upon thorough investigation, that said assault was wholly without cause or provocation; and

"Whereas, We have also been informed that our comrade Scott J. Anthony, who is a member of this club, was assaulted and abused in a most shameful manner by one assuming to be an officer assisting in the registration in district [illegible] of this city, said assault and abuse being administered without cause on the part of our comrade, and

"Whereas, We have been informed that many other reputable citizens of our city and county have been assaulted during the recent registration in the various districts of our city and county, in some cases causing some of our best citizens to be forcibly ejected from the places of registration; therefore be it

"Resolved, By the Soldiers and Sailors Republican club of the city of Denver, that we condemn in the most earnest and emphatic manner the unprovoked and unlawful assaults made upon members of this club and other citizens, whose only offence was an effort to comply with the law of our state in order that they might legally exercise the right of casting their votes at the ensuing election;

"Resolved, That we hereby serve notice upon all persons who may assault, injure, or in any manner by word or deed, seek to prevent members of this club, who are legal electors from the free and peaceful exercise of their rights of franchise, that we will resent such assaults and restrictions by all the legal means within our power;

"Resolved, That we believe it is the right of every legal elector to be properly registered and to be permitted to cast his or her ballot without interference from any one and to this end we pledge our best efforts;

"Resolved, That if on election day we are informed of the disfranchisement of any member of this club, who is a legal elector, whether by intimidation, assault, substitution or by any other device, we jointly and severally affirm that we will resent such violence and interference to the fullest extent of the law;

"Resolved, That each member of this club is advised and requested to report to these headquarters on election day any case of refusal, rejection or intimidation of a legal voter, member of this club, to the end that a speedy and effective remedy may be applied;

"Resolved, That on account of the vast number of reported illegal registrations and the numbers of rounders and thugs that have been employed for the purpose of repeating and impersonating legal voters, each member of this club is advised and urged to appear early at the polls on election day and cast their ballot, in order that their name may not be voted by some impostor;

"Resolved, That we hereby call upon all ex-soldiers and sailors, resident of this state, to go to their voting precincts on election day and vote the Republican ticket and thus assist us in freeing ourselves from this vile incubus in our county which is seeking to destroy our most sacred privilege—the right of franchise;

"Resolved, That we do not believe that the better element of the Democratic party indorses the wholesale fraudulent registration, report of this county, or that they indorse or approve the cowardly and unlawful assaults that have been made upon citizens of our county, and we therefore call upon law-abiding and fair minded citizens of our state, regardless of party, to join with us and vote the Republican ticket at the ensuing election, thereby placing their stamp of disapproval upon these flagrant outrages."

"The above was unanimously adopted at a meeting of this club held at the time and place first above named.

"AUSTIN W. HOGLE, President.
"H. E. ARMSTRONG, Secretary."

PROPHET BRYAN'S RECORD; IS HE ANY WISER NOW?

The Republican state central committee has issued a novel poster reading as follows: "Bryan the Prophet. A Few Citations From His Past Speeches."

"The law upon which we base our fight is as sure as the law of gravitation. If we have a gold standard, prices are as sure to fall as the stone which is thrown into the air." Newton, Ia., speech, 1896.

"If we are defeated in this campaign, there is nothing before the people for four years more of hard times." Baltimore speech, 1896.

"Mark my word, if the gold standard [illegible] the people continue to complain, the gold standard advocates instead of trying to improve the condition of the people, will be continually telling that you close your schools so that the people will not realize how much you are suffering." Pages 572 and 573 of "First Battle."

"If McKinley and the Republican party are successful and put in power for the next four years, wages will be decreased, hard times will come upon us and over the land. The price of wheat will go down, and the price of gold will go up. Mortgages on our homes will be foreclosed by the money lenders, shops and factories will close. We will export no goods and we will import from foreign lands all the goods to be used. Thus will ruin, want and misery be with us."

"The fight this year will be to carry out the sentiment of that song we have so often repeated, 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee.' If we lose, our children and our children's children will not succeed to the spirit of that song, and celebrations of the Fourth of July will pass away, for the spirit of the empire will be upon us." Lincoln, Neb., speech, July 7, 1900.

"Do not let the Republicans beguile you about the future. The future is written in blood crushed out of you by gold." Erie, Pa., speech, 1897.

Since the presidential election of 1896, Bryan himself has become a very rich man. He now charges for every speech he makes. And for each speech delivered in Colorado he receives the sum of $250 from the Democratic state central committee.

"IS HE ANY WISER NOW?"

The poster caused considerable comment when scattered over the city.

COUNTERFEIT NICKELS—Policeman Arnett this morning arrested Charles Lytton in a room at Twenty-second and Larimer street, and lodged him in jail, charged with making counterfeit nickels. The officer says Lytton was making the nickels when he was arrested. Lytton admits his guilt.

UNUSUAL DEFENSE—The brief for the defendant in the case of the disbarment proceedings against Attorney Frank Webster, was filed in the supreme court this morning, and the contentions for Webster are somewhat interesting. The brief discusses in detail his alleged misappropriation of the funds of his clients, particularly of Mrs. Bradford, and then takes up the question of dissipation as affecting the responsibility and moral sense of a man. The brief cites cases of dipsomania, and shows that a person addicted to it is not usually responsible for his acts.

NEW JUDGMENT OF PARIS—Commissioner-in-Chief Thatcher of the World's fair board has received the details of the plan which is being consummated by the managers of the fair to have a congress of beauty, composed of one woman from each state and territory in the union. The person representing each state to be selected by the state itself. The most popular way of making the selection seems to be by popular vote under the direction of the president of the World's fair board in each state, but Captain Thatcher is of the opinion that he will "take to the woods" when this delicate task is placed before him.

ACCIDENT AT GOLDEN—By the falling of a newly constructed floor at the Golden smelter in Golden this morning, John Brick and Roscoe Nickolls were quite severely injured. The men were removed to their homes and were attended by local physicians. It is not thought that either will die.

LOVELAND BURGLARY—A report from Loveland says: "At midnight last night the safe of the Thompson Milling and Elevator company at this place was robbed of $150 in cash and checks. There is no clew to the burglar. He is supposed to have entered the building through a window."

PULLMAN SHOPS—Announcement is made that the Pullman shops in this city will during the coming month place 100 additional men at work in the shops. The increase in the force is caused by the increase of the business.

POPULIST NOMINEES PULLED OFF TICKET

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 23.—The latest development in the political situation is that James L. Hurt, Populist nominee for state treasurer is to be pulled off the ticket and James Carlile, the Democratic nominee, put on. The reward for this sacrifice of Hurt is the promise of a number of fat appointments for Populists during the next biennial period. One other prominent nominee is also to be pulled off the Populist ticket for the benefit of the Democrats but his name has not been made public.

NEW MINING COMPANY TO WORK IN HUERFANO COUNTY

(Special Correspondence.)

Walsenburg, Oct. 23.—A charter under the laws of Kentucky has been obtained for the Huerfano Gold & Copper Mining company, recently organized and which will be completed in a few days. The company is backed by eastern capital and expects to operate exclusively in Huerfano county. This morning Messrs. Bird, Lord and Kinney, members of the organization started out on a trip to the Ojo country near La Veta to examine a group of claims and from there they will go to the Sierra Blanca country above Gardner to examine several groups there. If their report warrants it the company will buy the claims and at once commence operation. Mr. Kinney feels sure that $2,000,000 can be secured for the enterprise if the prospects justify the undertaking and the prospects are all first-class. Development is all the Huerfano county needs to make her one of the best mining counties in this or any other state, as we have nearly every kind of ore secreted in the county.

Edward Baxter, of Colorado Springs, is spending the present week in town looking after his land interests here.

John P. Kearns is looking after business matters at Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo this week. He will return Saturday.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS IN RIALTO AT LEADVILLE

(Special Correspondence.)

Leadville, Oct. 23.—Within the next few weeks important developments may be expected at the Rialto. Manager S. W. Mudd has been conducting a series of drill hole explorations, with both up and down holes, and in one of the upper drill holes three feet of sulphide has been encountered, which gives good assays. Although this is not the main Greenback extension looked for, as that would be below, nevertheless it is important as it indicates other ore bodies in the limestone close to the Greenback line, where most of this work is being conducted.

A new mill is to be erected, when an attempt will be made to solve the problem of the treatment of the low grade silicious ore by the means of cyanide. P. B. Turnbull and James Goloh, principal owners of the Ballard mine, have begun the grading for the erection of a cyanide mill capable of treating 60 tons per day. A mill man is now on the road, who will have charge of the construction work, particularly the tanks, which are of a peculiar make and, barring accidents, the mill will be completed by December. The Ballard has large reserves of low grade ore, besides a dump of some 15,000 tons, which will run half an ounce in gold.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Ernest B. Beeson received a telegram Wednesday telling her of the sudden death from heart disease of her father, the Hon. John M. Wadhams of Torrington, Conn. Mr. Wadhams died in his office at the state capitol at Hartford. He has been prominent many years in politics and belongs to one of the best known families in his native state. Mrs. Beeson left Wednesday for her home at Torrington, Conn., and will not return until the first of December.

George H. Fullerton, cashier of the Telluride Reduction works left yesterday for La Crosse, Wis. He expects to be gone several days.

THE CASE AGAINST JOHN M. GLOVER

Attracting An Unusual Amount Of Interest In the District Court at Cripple Creek.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 23.—A case of more than ordinary interest was commenced in the district court this morning, Judge Voorhees of Pueblo presiding. It is entitled the state of Colorado versus John M. Glover, and has for the complaining witness ex-Sheriff James Stewart of this county. Attorney S. D. Crump is assisting District Attorney Trowbridge in the prosecution, while the defense is represented by the prisoner at the bar himself. The case grows out of a circular letter that was published in September a year ago, prior to the Democratic county convention. This letter was printed in Colorado Springs by George H. Miller. Mr. Crump made the opening statements to the jury for the people, and then Mr. Glover was given [illegible] to address the twelve men. This he declined to do and the state started in to make its case. A number of witnesses were examined to show that Glover was the author of the so-called scandalous circular and then the state rested its case. The defense at once asked for a nonsuit, but this was denied. In fact, however, [illegible] points made by Mr. Glover were [illegible] of authentication [illegible] court to require some [illegible] not until tomorrow morning will the final order of the court be given as regards the nonsuit.

DEMOCRATIC EFFORTS—The Democrats are yet [illegible] extraordinary efforts at present, and each night at headquarters they have [illegible] to assist in attracting a crowd. All the ward workers of the party [illegible] are present nightly and [illegible] that it is impossible to work up any enthusiasm and some of the [illegible] a knowledge to friends that they will not be able to carry the city and some even fear they will lose it by 1,000 or more. Tonight Dr. Rose [illegible] of Denver was advertised as one of the drawing cards. She made a short address, [illegible].

MASK BALL—A mask ball is being given tonight at Hepner's hall, and is largely attended. Some of the costumes are strikingly original.

CALKINS BAD BREAK—George W. Calkins, a miner by occupation, is resting quietly behind the bars at the city jail. It is charged that at an early hour this morning Calkins attempted to gain entrance to the residence of Miss Ella Lawes of 3[illegible] North Second street. He first broke out a large pane of glass and then tried to smash in the door. The occupant of the house was armed with a revolver, and fired through the door. Calkins ran away, but some hours after was apprehended by the police.

HARVEY WILCOX DEAD—Harvey Wilcox, a prisoner in the county jail for some weeks past, charged with a heinous crime, was taken sick a few days ago, and it was found necessary to remove him to the county hospital, at which place he died at 5 o'clock this morning. Deceased was 10 years of age. Nothing is known as to his antecedents.

SHORT LINE CHANGES—E. B. Walters, superintendent of terminals of the C. S. & C. C. D. Railway company has removed his office from this city to Cameron. His headquarters were formerly at the corner of Bennett avenue and Fourth street. S. L. Smith, formerly chief clerk to Mr. Walter, has been appointed local ticket agent, with an office in the depot of the company on Fourth street. W. N. Cartwright, who for several months has been acting as yard master, has returned to the main line and will once more go to punching tickets.

O'BRIEN SENTENCED—W. O'Brien, a young man who burglarized the Midland Terminal depot at Independence a few weeks ago, came into the district court today and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to the reformatory.

THE FRENCH SYSTEM OF WAR AGAINST CONSUMPTION

By Associated Press.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—About 160 eminent authorities on pathological research assembled in the Prussian parliament house today to hear and talk over the results of another year's inquiries into the nature and treatment of consumption, most of these, who have come to the congress from a dozen countries, having something original to contribute. France is represented by 20 delegates from her scientific bodies and Germany by more. Among the German representatives is Dr. Koch who, however, today said nothing. Great Britain is represented by four delegates and the other European countries have sent from three to 15 delegates. There are two delegates from the United States. Prof. Brouardel of Paris was chosen chairman.

At the first session Home Secretary Posadowsky-Wehner welcomed the delegates on behalf of Emperor William, Count Chamberlain von Kubeck welcoming them for the empress and Burgomaster Kirschner extended them a welcome on the part of the municipality.

The feature of the day was an account by Dr. Chalmotte of Lille, France, of the house to house crusade against tuberculosis in France, especially the nursing at home system carried on by private beneficence. The state partakes in this only by subsidies from the mutual betting at the races. Societies have been formed in each town supported by the town councils and various groups that try to prevent the spread of consumption.

EFFECTIVE RALLY OF VICTOR REPUBLICANS

Convincing Speeches of Candidates Greeted With Applause of Large Audience.

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Victor, Oct. 23.—Teller county Democracy was dismayed tonight at the showing made by the Republicans of this end of the county. The opera house was filled to overflowing to listen to the sound arguments of the next governor of Colorado Hon. James Peabody; the next superintendent of instruction Mrs. Anna B. Brandt, and the next attorney general, Hon. N. C. Miller. As is well known, almost everybody belongs to some union here, and a story to the effect that Mr. Peabody was opposed to organized labor, quite generally circulated by local Democracy, had been to more or less extent believed. The pins were knocked from under this yarn, when the letter written by Mr. Stephen by Mr. Peabody and printed in the Gazette yesterday was read to the large audience. From the opening to the close of the meeting there was intense enthusiasm and many predict tonight that this city at the approaching election will give a Republican majority.

The Rev. Mr. Daive, pastor of the Presbyterian church, acted as chairman of the meeting and he introduced as the first speaker, Hon. James Owens of Cripple Creek, candidate for state senator from the Third district. He made a short but brilliant talk, and was quite frequently applauded. Mr. N. C. Miller followed in a masterly address, which was well received. Mrs. Brandt was the third speaker on the list and was most happy in her remarks. The ladies showed their appreciation of what she had to say by their vociferous applause. The next governor of Colorado was the last speaker of the evening, and what he has to say was listened to with marked attention. He was at his best, and people who had gone to the meeting wavering in their political faith are now shouting for that gentleman for governor.

KENNEDY'S RETURN—J. A. Kennedy and wife have returned from a trip to the western part of the state. It will be remembered that Mrs. Kennedy met with a distressing accident through the accidental discharge of a gun some days ago. Her friends will be glad to learn that she is rapidly recovering from the effects of the wound.

ACCIDENT AT THE RAVEN—Aaron McClure, a lessee on the Raven, was slightly injured this morning while at work in that property. A rock fell from one of the walls, striking him a glancing blow on the head, and crushing two of his fingers. He was brought to his home in this city and is resting as well as could be expected.

FOOTBALL TEAM—The Victor Athletic club has organized a football team and now has a lineup which is considered invincible. A number of games have been scheduled. The team will play the Cripple Creek eleven a week from Sunday at Union park, Cripple Creek. The lineup is as follows: Lyman Nickells, c; Polk, rg; Doetschmann, lg; Chester, rt; McCool, lt; Erwin, re; Eby, le; Higgins, rh; Van der Walker, lh; Hubbard, qb; Cline, fb.

FROM GRAND COUNTY—Fred V. Bodfish has returned from a month's touring of Grand county. He spent the time in studying the resources of the county, and speaks with authority when he says it is a district of wonderful possibilities. He brought back with him samples of lead, copper, gold and other ores which he will have classified. Mr. Bodfish and people associated with him are doing a large amount of patenting work in Grand county, upon claims representing various kinds of mineral.

HUNTERS RETURNED—Dr. G. W. Deemer and his friend Guy Fetter, of West Terrilton, O., returned last night from a month's hunting trip in Routt county. They say their larder was at all times supplied with grouse and other small game, and with mountain trout, so that the trip is regarded by the sunburned hunters as a great success.

BENEFIT BALL—The ball given at the armory tonight for the benefit of the Pennsylvania miners was a great success, about $100 being realized.

SUIT IS FILED—The Newton Lumber company filed suit in the district court yesterday against Benjamin F. Jackson, Laura Jackson, T. J. Zollars, trustee, the Columbia Savings and Loan association, the Cheyenne Realty company and Emma M. Tyron, for $388.86, on a mechanic's lien.

TO BE TRIED TODAY—Robert Jones will probably be tried in the district court today. He is accused of stealing a heifer. There were several criminal cases on the docket scheduled for this week, but which will be taken up and disposed of as rapidly as possible.

THE IRISH NATIONALISTS CONTINUED THEIR TACTICS

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 23.—Another scene was caused by the Irish Nationalists in the house of commons today on identical lines with those which have almost daily marked the present session. The Nationalists bombarded Chief Secretary for Ireland Wyndham with all kinds of relevant and irrelevant questions, and when the speaker stopped the attack in this direction, the Nationalists moved an adjournment of the house in order to discuss some trivality which happened during the last session. When the speaker ruled the motion out of order, great disorder followed, Nationalist after Nationalist sprang to his feet and violently challenged the speaker's ruling.

William Redmond was especially prominent, insisting on arguing with the speaker, to which he was egged on by frantic cheers and shouts from the Nationalist benches. Finally Mr. Devlin obtained leave to move the adjournment of the house to discuss certain rioting in Belfast October 19. The motion will come up tonight.

Premier Balfour declined to change his attitude regarding naming a day for Patrick O'Brien's resolution of yesterday that a day be granted for debate on the state of Ireland, on the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, declining to say he would accept the motion or would support it as a vote of censure against the government.

THE MARY McKINNEY

Ore Reserves Said to Be Ample to Keep the Property Producing at Present Rate for Long Time to Come---Work to Be Resumed on Property of the Chicolo Cons. G. M. Co.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 23.—The Mary McKinney that many people believe to be at least the third best property in the district is getting along famously these days and that without any apparent effort on the part of the management. Some little time ago all thought of working at or below the water level was temporarily abandoned but it is said that the ore reserves are ample to keep the property going at its present rate of output 75 tons per day for at least two years to come. The Mary McKinney ore shoot has been developed for something more than 2,000 feet in length and some of the mineral broken is fabulously rich.

Lessee Wilkinson on the Christmas on the Legal Tender spur of Bull hill, is operating the block of ground from which Potvin and Vaine shipped many thousands of tons of ore during the last three years. He will make his initial shipment this week and hopes to have as productive a lease as was that of his predecessors.

Lessee Babbitt operating on the Jennie Semple of the Gould Consolidated company will send out a shipment of 30 tons tomorrow the average grade of which will be about $30.

The Gold Bond company's property or especially that portion of it worked by Lessee Hummel is still very rich ore. A shipment of a few sacks that it is confidently hoped will run at least $20 per pound will go out within a few days.

Stratton's Independence is still continuing an output of from 150 to 18 tons per day. The manager of the property is authority for the statement that the grade of the mineral product is considerably better than that before he took charge of the old-time bonanza.

On November 1 work will begin on the Chicolo Consolidated Gold Mining company's property. After many months of earnest effort, all the companies that formerly owned the territory that has finally passed into the hands of the corporation named have agreed fully upon a basis of operation, have surrendered their old stock and received new certificates in return. The new organization now has title to 181 acres of ground. Possibly the most valuable portion of this estate lies on Tenderfoot hill and it is here that work is to begin. A plant of machinery is to be installed on an old shaft on the Forlorn Hope claim from which many years ago some mineral was produced. It is said that there is still ore in sight and Manager May promises that he will be shipping good grade of quartz to market before the expiration of 31 days.

Some Texas men have arrived in the district and propose operating here on an original plan. J. W. Shoaf of Lockhardt, Texas, accompanied by two other gentlemen and a lad of 16 years came into town this afternoon. On Saturday they expect to be joined by a party of six or seven gentlemen from their home town, all of whom are said to have ample means to invest in mining on the plans they propose. The boy of 16 years is the mascot of this coterie of gentlemen. This lad was in Cripple Creek about two months ago, in company with some of the men who now have him in charge. At that time he walked around the district carrying some kind of a wand in his hand that he said enabled him to tell positively where large bodies of mineral might be found. His friends seem to believe in him implicitly and they now propose to go into mining with the lad as manager of their operations.

On the Granite vein on Battle mountain there is nothing especially new to report only that the output at the end of each week is a trifle larger than that of the week before. The mine is in excellent condition and bids fair to be a large producer for many years to come.

CRIPPLE CREEK PRODUCERS COMPLAIN

Say That Teller County Is Committing Commercial Suicide in Its Treatment of the Mines.

The question of the assessments levied against the mines in the Cripple Creek district is one that is receiving a good deal of attention at the present time. The producing mines have not as great a grievance as the non-producers as their assessment is levied upon their production and there is therefore little ground for complaint as the correct figures of production are easily obtained. The non-producers however are assessed in violation of that section of the revenue law which provides that a non-producing mining property shall not be assessed more than the lowest producing property in the same locality. It is on this point that many of the companies are making their protest. In speaking on this subject yesterday Mr. F. H. Pettingell said that the companies his interests owned or controlled are charged with taxes this year that total over $5,000. Mr. Pettingell further said: The tax question is one of vital interest to every man who is interested in Cripple Creek. It is a matter that will do as much as the water question towards discouraging investors. Teller county is committing commercial suicide in its treatment of the mines. Were Teller county to remit the taxes for three years it would relieve the stock market, encourage development and investment and money would flow into the district that would never come in any other way. There is no encouragement to buy stock in the Cripple Creek mines with a Damocles sword of taxation and ultimate confiscation in 1904 hanging over the investor's head. The mines are Teller county's only resource and when they kill the mines they kill themselves. When the mines of the district play out there will be nothing to take their place and the cities of Cripple Creek and Victor will become deserted as the cities of Nevada did. Teller county should nurse the mines and invite capital into the district rather than continue a policy of oppression that will eventually end in confiscation.

BEN HUR PEOPLE TALK OF 200 FEET MORE OF DEPTH

William I. Lloyd superintendent of the Ben Hur company spent yesterday in the city. Mr. Lloyd is more than ever convinced that there is ore at the Ben Hur ground. The company has up to the present time spent [illegible] in development work on company account, without opening up any large ore bodies. The officers of the company are still encouraged at the prospects of the company, however and negotiations are now under way which may result in more extensive development than has heretofore been done. The money spent by the Ben Hur people has been expended with a view of developing the Midget vein which is known to dip into this property at depth. The shaft is now down 600 feet and there are many hundreds of feet of workings. But it is the belief of the officers that sufficient depth has not been acquired to get the ore sought for. If the present negotiations go through the company will be in possession of ample funds with which to operate and the shaft will then be sunk an additional 200 feet and a drift run to cut the Midget vein at that depth.

DRAINAGE TUNNEL COMMITTEE HAS NOT YET HAD A MEETING

The drainage tunnel which will be built in the Cripple Creek district continues to be the chief object of interest among mining men. As far as is known the gentlemen chosen by the meeting of Monday to carry on the further work of the organization have accepted the trust and will serve on the committee. No meetings have yet been held as several of the gentlemen are out of the city. It is expected however that a meeting will be held Monday at which the preliminary work will be gone through. It is pretty generally thought that the tunnel as it will be constructed will follow the recommendations of the first committee very closely. If any change is made it will probably be made in the direction of cutting the district at even greater depth. To do this it would be necessary to begin at a point farther down Cripple creek which would add several hundred feet to the length of the tunnel. This change is not considered likely but is one that has been suggested by those who wish to build for all time. There is considerable opposition to going any deeper than recommended by the committee, however. There is always the danger of a very deep tunnel getting below the water basin necessitating costly upraises to the mines in order to be of value as a drainage proposition. The tunnel recommended by the committee is generally regarded as being sufficiently deep to provide drainage for several years and there are many who believe that the mines will find little or no water when they get below the level of the tunnel.

MANAGER HEATON REPORTS TO PAR VALUE COMPANY

A letter was received at the office of the Mary Cashen company in this city yesterday from David Heaton, manager of the Par Value Leasing company, which is carrying on the operations on the Mary Cashen. Mr. Heaton reports that a shipment of 70 tons has just been sent to the Dorcas mill at Florence which is expected to run much better than the last sent out. This ore came from the third level or 375-foot point. Mr. Heaton reports that the ore body in this level has been proved up and runs much better grade. He recently made a thorough examination of the property below the 50-foot point and expresses himself as satisfied that a permanent body of ore will be opened up there. As a result of this examination the work of driving south on the vein at 600 feet has been commenced, operations being carried on by machinery. Mr. Heaton thinks there is a fault in the formation at about the 400 foot point and he thinks therefore that the ore will be found at 600 feet. The ore shoot was first opened up in the 425 foot level and considerable ore was shipped therefrom. The shoot gave out suddenly in this level, stopping at the granite wall as smoothly as though cut off. The Par Value company then opened up the same shoot in the level 50 feet higher up and it is from this point that the present shipments are being made. If they succeed in finding the shoot at 600 feet, it will place the Mary Cashen on a permanent shipping basis.

Mining Notes Around Town

WILL EQUIP AND OPERATE HAPPY JACK

The Pennsylvania Gold and Silver Mining and Milling company is offering 100,000 shares of its stock to the public in order to raise the funds necessary to equip and operate its Happy Jack group of properties in the Eldora district. Investigation of this property leads to the belief that if properly equipped it can be operated profitably. The group consists of the Happy Jack and Mary Jane claims on the south slope of Spencer mountain, and Smith Nos. 1 and 2 near Jenny lake in Gilpin county. The new machinery will be installed on the Happy Jack which already has two shafts of 45 and 40 feet respectively and 75 feet of tunnel. There is from eight to 10 tons of ore on the dump. The vein on this property is about four feet in width between well defined granite walls and carries a pay streak 6 inches wide which has assayed from $150 to $300 per ton in gold, besides carrying values in silver and copper. Some of the richest ore of the Spencer mountain veins cross this property and are extensions of the Mary Jane.

The Smith claims owned by the company are on Jenny lake on the north fork of Middle Boulder creek six miles west of the Happy Jack. These claims have been developed by a shaft 75 feet deep from which ore has been taken that ran as high as $166 per ton. Some of this ore carries 12 per cent copper and 18 to 20 ounces of gold. This property includes a tunnel site on Boulder creek from which a tunnel could be driven to cut the veins at a depth of 1,000 feet. C. C. Smith of Wyoming, Pa., is president of the company, and J. H. Gabriel of Denver secretary.

GOOD PROGRESS REPORTED ON SILVER GLANCE GROUP

The reports from the Silver Glance group in the Georgetown district are most encouraging. This property is owned by several Georgetown gentlemen. They have developed the group by a series of drifts and crosscuts aggregating 750 feet on the tunnel or No. 7 level together with an upraise from the sixth to the seventh level. A drift is now being driven eastward in the sixth level and has exposed a fine large streak of quartz heavily studded with galena ores. Stoping on the present drifts of the sixth level will commence at once and from the large ore bodies there exposed good shipments will be made hereafter.

NEWHOUSE ACQUIRES PROPERTY IN SAN JUAN DISTRICT

It is reported from Silverton that the famous New York-Brooklyn group in Emporium gulch about six miles northwest of Silverton, has been sold by Mantz Bros. and Murphy to a company headed by Samuel Newhouse of Salt Lake City. The price paid for the mine is said to be $185,000 and that only a few minor details remain to be completed. The Brooklyn is an old prospect but it is only within the past year that it has joined the ranks of the shippers. It is probably the richest mine of its age in the state. The vein is from four to six feet wide and the entire width between walls is a soft light colored porphyry or a softer talc running well in gold generally in the free state. Masses of gold as large as walnuts have occasionally been found that were so compact as to be called nuggets. The chief feature of the property is that it is entirely undeveloped and no stoping whatever has ever been done upon it. Notwithstanding this the mine has been a steady shipper all this season, a force of six men doing all the work upon the property. From drifting on the vein much good ore has been produced, each carload shipped netting the owners from $800 to $1,000. The former owners of the mine had contracted for the erection of a ten-stamp mill at the property, provided the sale was not made. If the sale does not now go through the plant will be completed this fall.

MINERAL SURVEYS

The following mineral surveys have been approved by Surveyor General C. C. Goodale for the week ending October 18, 1902:

EASTERN MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN & PROVISIONS.

Report of Logan & Bryan to William A. Otis & Co.:

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Wheat—Liverpool, ¼ to ⅜ higher. Paris ⅜ to 1½ higher, Antwerp ⅛ lower. Primary receipts 1,206,000 against 955,000. Market here was rather more active and strong. The bull incentives were threatened, rain in the northwest and an advance of about 2c a bushel in Pacific markets, with reported large export business there. The principal buying here was by local professionals. The southwest markets report buying here was by local professionals. The southwest markets report only a fair cash demand at unchanged prices. They also say there is no indication of any decrease in the movement from that quarter. While the situation is a fairly healthy one, we see nothing very urgent. With the good character of the buying, an advancing market might be maintained if foreign markets will assist, but not without them. On the whole it still looks like a scalping market to us. Estimated cars, 80.

Corn—Liverpool, ⅜ to ½ higher. The market was active and strong. Predictions of rains through the west were probably the most bullish influence. The market is, however, all the time unsettled by uncertainty of bull manipulation. The southwest reports cash situation as very unsatisfactory. Here the demand is at best only fair. The short interest in December has probably been increased some yesterday and today, and is no doubt an important factor in the event that the ownership is any way concentrated. Short interest in May is very large. The weather is probably the most important contingency at the moment. Estimated cars 225.

Oats—Market is very quiet. Speculative operations without feature and the cash situation only a moderate influence either way. Estimated cars 246.

Provisions—The market was firm and a shade higher. Cash demand is fairly good, and the speculative buying of January and May stuff is all the time rather better than the selling.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Report of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., to William A. Otis & Co.:

New York, Oct. 23.—No especial features. Trading confined to operations of room traders and, possibly, in some instances to a continuance of clique transactions with the public entirely disinterested. Arbitrage dealings were in no wise aggressive, the trading being on both sides and showing about 10,000 shares purchased on balance.

Advices from the anthracite coal regions report a general disposition on the part of the mine workers to resume work and the further fact that there has been no disturbance in the resumption.

Throughout the day the market has been stagnant and irregular and while in some instances there was a showing of strength the market was so narrow that the slightest attempt to sell securities resulted in declines. In our opinion there is nothing to expect but a dull waiting market for some days to come, probably until after the elections, occurring in the fore part of the coming month. The money market has been quiet, but firm throughout the day, but there is some uncertainty as to the foreign exchange rate which is quoted $4.85½ to $4.86⅝. This is due to the possibility that exportation of gold may result, but as yet nothing definite has taken place.

Metal Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 22.—The metal markets were generally quieter today. Tin in London closed at a decline of about 2s 6d at £129 2s 6d for spot, while futures advanced 2s 6d to £117 12s 6d. Locally tin was weak owing to a reduction in the views of holders, though the bid price was a shade higher than yesterday's. Spot closed at $28.50@26.75. Copper remained at yesterday's quotations in the London market for futures at £52 12s 6d but spot advanced 1s 3d to £52 8s 9d. On this side copper was dull. Standard closed at $11.00; lake at $11.75@12.00; electrolytic at $11.70@11.90 and casting at $11.70@11.80. Lead was unchanged at £10 15s in the London market and locally at 4⅛. Spelter was also unchanged in both markets, closing here at 5¼ and in London at £19 5s. Iron was lower in the English markets, Glasgow closing at 57s 2d and Middlesboro at 52s 1½d. There was no change in the New York market which continues steady.

Denver Live Stock.

Denver, Oct. 23.—Cattle—There was another good run of cattle today and nearly all of them consisted of feeders and stockers. Beef cattle were in very light supply, and the few head that were mixed in with a shipment of feeders did not arrive until too late for the morning market, so there were no sales made in this division. The market was pretty well cleaned up yesterday afternoon, and as the fresh supply did not arrive until late this morning, the market was slow and little trading done. The bulk of the stuff on the market was a trainload of fair cattle from New Mexico. There were some good yearlings on the market from Saguache, Colo., with good prospects for selling this afternoon. Cow stuff is still selling well on this market, feeders buying the bulk of the offerings at strong prices. The market ruled about steady on the best grades today, but the common kinds were weak, and in some instances lower. The river markets are reported steady only on the best, with a decline on the ordinary cattle. Buyers here are looking for cattle to go lower and are inclined to wait.

Hogs—Hog values reacted today and the market took an upward turn, with $6.85 as the top. Receipts are running very light, but enough arriving to supply the demand, which is not urgent at this time. Packers are getting in better shape to buy and in a few days the demand will no doubt be stronger.

Sheep—Sheep receipts were seven loads from the southern part of the state. The mixed bunch of sheep that were weighed in late yesterday sold at $3.25 to $3.35 for the lambs, $3.00 for the wethers and $2.00 to $2.25 for the ewes. The market is unchanged, with a fair demand for feeders and a good demand for choice muttons.

DEMURRER FILED—Attorneys for the Colorado Springs & Interurban Railway company yesterday filed a demurrer in the damage suit against the company wherein Anna Hunneck figures as plaintiff, on the ground that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action.

LOUIS JAMES AND FREDERICK WARDE.

The joint appearance of Louis James and Frederick Warde in Wagenhals and Kemper's sumptuous spectacular production of "The Tempest" next Saturday evening is the all important announcement of the Opera house management.

The story of "The Tempest" concerns the adventures of both spiritual and moral characters. Its scenes are laid on an enchanted island, the whole atmosphere presenting unique opportunities for scenic and spectacular effect. The play opens with the scene of the great storm and shipwreck, so it is important that the audience be seated before the rise of the curtain. As this tempest is supposed to be ruled by the magic power of Prospero, every device that will advance the impression of supernatural cause needs to be utilized. In this direction Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper have found the greatest assistance in the recent inventions of expert electricians, not only for the purpose of creating illusions of light and color, but as a motive power in working the several transformations, which are said to melt from one to another with the precision of the kaleidoscope. The scenes themselves were painted by Mr. H. Logan Reid, formerly scenic artist for Augustin Daly. The costumes, almost as important a feature as the scenery, were designed by Mrs. Siedle of the Metropolitan Opera house, and the melodious incidental music, both vocal and instrumental, which accompanies the action of the play throughout is the work of Mr. Maxime De Grosse. In the supporting company may be found such players as Norman Hackett, Wadsworth Harris, Thomas Coffin Cooke, Miss Edith Fassett and Miss Teresa Maxwell.

Augmenting the dramatic strength of the company is a chorus of beautifully trained voices and a ballet which appears in the guise of the fairies and spirits of earth and air.

"THE BELLE OF NEW YORK."

"The Belle of New York," which will be seen in this city at the Opera house on Tuesday evening, although located in the great American metropolis, contains an unusual number of novel scenes and original characters. It is satirical in a way and yet it pictures every-day life as seen by those who have studied human nature. One of its most interesting characters, aside from the Salvation Army lassie, is shown in the Pell street scene. This characterization is Betty, a poor tenement waif, and the contrast between her and the sweet young Salvation Army girl, as they stand side by side, is most startling. Betty appears in a ragged costume, red face and bleary eyes. The character is portrayed by Miss Gertrude Davies and it is considered one of the most artistic performances in the play, although she is on the stage but a short time. In the succeeding act Miss Davies displays her versatility by playing a bright handsome young American girl.

Reserved seats can now be secured for this engagement. Regular prices of admission will be charged. No advance.

Pennsylvanian Presses Suit for Damages From Cog Road

Phillip J. Watson, a tourist living at Newcastle, Pa., has filed suit in the district court against the Manitou and Pike's Peak Railway company and J. G. Holstan, manager of the Summit house, for damages in the sum of $10,000 for alleged personal injuries.

The plaintiff claims that the Summit house is a public railroad station and as such should be safeguarded at all times. He claims that he hired a room at the house for the night, and early in the morning went out to view the Peak. He claims that he fell from the main door of the station to the tracks, five feet below, and as a result was permanently injured. Negligence on the part of the defendants in not maintaining lights is alleged.

Transcribing Names to Poll Books Will Be Started Monday

Monday the force in the county clerk's office will commence transcribing the names of registered voters from the general books to the poll books. The books will be sent out to the polling places either the Saturday or the Monday before election. The names of the voters which appear in the general books are arranged in the poll books according to precincts and alphabetically, so that they can be referred to at a moment's notice when the owner comes to vote. Changes in residence can be made at the office of the county clerk up to Saturday evening, the voter furnishing the two required vouchers. There is nothing to prevent the changing of addresses in the same precinct at any time up to election day. County Commissioners Rouse and Fairall spent yesterday securing polling places. The work is rather laborious on account of it being necessary to call several times in some instances before a place is finally secured. The list will be complete in a couple of days, however.

[illegible]

The audience which greeted Tim Murphy at the Opera house last evening was one of the best of the season and every person present carried away a lasting impression of Mr. Murphy as an actor. The play which Mr. Murphy has selected for this year is "Old Innocence," a simple three-act comedy well fitted to the chief actor's personality. The simple, trusting old man whose kind heart makes him the friend of all is changed by an unfortunate experience and the tongue of his grasping brother to lose all faith in humanity generally and his best friends in particular. When, however, his bank fails and he is supposed to be ruined, those whom he had distrusted come to him with offers of help, and his confidence in his fellow men is restored. It also comes out that he is not ruined, as he still has a large sum he had withdrawn to loan to a friend. The play was simple and of little depth, but in the hands of Mr. Murphy it became of intense interest. It is replete with comical situations and moreover is made the vehicle of teaching a strong moral lesson.

As was to be expected, Mr. Murphy was at all times the central figure in the performance. Indeed, in the hands of a less gifted artist the play could easily sink into mediocrity, but Mr. Murphy's wonderful acting would save any play from such a fate. He did not act. From the moment the curtain arose he ceased to be Tim Murphy; he was Jason Green, "Old Innocence." He seemed to realize this, for when called before the curtain at the close of the second act he asked to be allowed to wait until after the close of the play, calling attention to the poor taste it would be for him to tell a funny story immediately after portraying the sorrow upon which the curtain had fallen.

While Mr. Murphy was to a certain extent the play, his able support enabled him to make his performance that much stronger. Miss Dorothy Sherrad as the young wife filled her part in a manner deserving the highest praise. Her performance was equaled, however, by that of Miss Louise Whitfield as Olive, the daughter. Mr. Armstrong as the hard, close-fisted brother, played his part in a masterful manner. Mr. Steadman had little opportunity to distinguish himself and it would therefore be an injustice to criticise his work, but it was hardly equal to that of the other members of the company. Mr. Stewart made an excellent darky butler, and Miss Powell gave an excellent characterization of the independent servant.

One of the pleasantest features of the evening was the personal appreciation shown Mr. Murphy. When called before the curtain at the close of the second act he promised the audience a story or two at the end of the play. He kept his word faithfully. The two or three anecdotes were fresh and witty, but it was his imitation of Sir Henry Irving reciting "A Little Peach in an Orchard Grew" that convulsed the audience. Tim Murphy made a friend of every person before the curtain, and his return to Colorado Springs will be looked forward to by all theater goers.

Shot-Gun Prescriptions.

We suppose we are not revealing any trade secret when we say that many medicines are made up on the principle of the so-called "shot-gun prescriptions," which were formerly somewhat in vogue.

The idea of the shot-gun prescription was to put in a large number of different drugs, each useful for different purposes, in the hope that some of them might hit the case.

Vinol, the medicine we sell over our name and guarantee, is not a scattering "shot-gun prescription," but goes straight to the mark.

It is the best thing we know for a run-down condition, for a listless feeling, nerve troubles, for lung troubles—in fact, it is a safe, pleasant, reliable tonic and reconstructor.

It has cured so many people right here in town we offer money back if it fails to benefit.

OFFERING OF BONDS AND STOCKS OF THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

PAYMENTS TO BE MADE IN INSTALLMENTS OR AT SUBSCRIBERS' OPTION.

Denver, Colorado, October 21, 1902.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company has contracted with THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY to build and equip approximately 500 miles of its railroad between Denver, Colorado, and Salt Lake City, Utah. The contract provides for a substantial roadbed, steel rails eighty pounds per yard, and a modern standard passenger and freight rolling stock equipment. Payments under this contract are to be made in the bonds and stock of the Railway Company which are now offered for subscription.

Under the provisions of the construction contract there will be issued by the Railway Company to the Construction Company 40,000 and no more of the first mortgage 4 per cent. bonds of the Railway Company and $20,000 par value of its full-paid preferred stock and $20,000 par value of its full-paid common stock for each mile of main track railroad as it is built, equipped and turned over to the Railway Company for operation.

The authorized capital stock of the Railway Company is $20,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is 5 per cent. non-cumulative preferred stock and $10,000,000 is common stock.

The first mortgage of the Railway Company to THE MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY, of New York, provides for an issue of not exceeding $22,500,000 of Fifty-Year Four Per Cent Gold Bonds, of which issue the balance of $2,500,000, remaining after the payments to be made under the construction contract, will be held in reserve by the Railway Company.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company will receive through
The Mercantile Trust Company, New York City;
Providence Banking Company, Providence, R. I.
Commercial Trust Company, Philadelphia, Pa., and
The International Trust Company, Denver, Colorado,

applications for subscriptions in $1,000, and multiples of $1,000, to the bonds and stocks of THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY above mentioned until November 16, 1902, after which no further applications will be received.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company reserves the right to scale down or to reject any and all applications.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

The terms of the subscription agreement which is to be signed by the parties whose applications shall be accepted by the undersigned, provide that payment shall be called in as money is required by the Construction Company for the purpose of fulfilling its contract with the Railway Company, but that in no event shall the subscribers be required to pay more than 10 per cent. of their subscriptions in any one month, but that each subscriber shall have the option to pay the whole amount subscribed at once.

Each subscriber will receive, as provided in the subscription agreement, for each $950 paid, a

$1,000 4 per cent. 50-Year First Mortgage Gold Bond of the Railway Company
$250 par value of the Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, and
$250 par value of the Common Stock of the Railway Company.

Until the bonds and stock of the Railway Company are engraved, executed and received by the Construction Company under the terms of its contract with the Railway Company, the Construction Company will issue to the subscribers, as any payment is made upon their subscriptions, its receipts providing for the payment of interest from the date of such payment at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum until the bonds and stock subscribed for are ready for delivery to the subscribers, subject to adjustment to be made as to any interest then secured upon such bonds.

The one-half of the common and preferred stock of the Railway Company not offered for subscription will be owned by the Construction Company.

The subscription agreement, a pamphlet containing a description and map of the route, copies of the mortgage securing the bonds, the construction contract, and copies of the Engineer's report and estimate, and an estimate of earnings and expenses may be inspected at the agencies above enumerated or at the office of the undersigned, where forms of application may be obtained upon request in person or by mail.

Upon careful examination of the traffic conditions of the various railways in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, having regard to the revenue derived from the transportation of ores, coal, lumber, cattle, general merchandise and passengers, it is conservatively estimated that the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific Railway Company will secure, as soon as completed, gross earnings of at least $8,000. NET EARNINGS OF $3,200 PER MILE PER ANNUM, and that this revenue will annually increase. This estimate is irrespective of any through travel or freight. The bond issue (exclusive of the $2,500,000 in par value thereof reserved, which it is expected will not be required to be issued) is limited to $40,000 per mile of completed and equipped railroad, upon which the ANNUAL INTEREST CHARGE WILL BE $1,600 or ONLY ONE-HALF OF THE ESTIMATED NET EARNINGS.

The above offer is made upon the terms above stated, subject to advance or withdrawal without notice, and the undersigned recommends the bonds and stock of THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY as a safe and profitable investment.

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway Company,
By SYLVESTER T. SMITH,
President.

Denver, Colorado, October, 20, 1902.

TO THE PUBLIC:

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway Company is organized, not to invade the territory of any other railroad company, but to open to development and traffic a region, in Northwestern Colorado and Eastern Utah, larger than the state of Pennsylvania, which is now without a single mile of railroad. This region is rich in deposits of gold, silver, lead, copper and iron ores, and of bituminous and anthracite coal. In it are large forests of timber and broad areas of grazing land and of lands capable of irrigation and cultivation. There are large streams and an abundance of water on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains in the valleys through which this railway will be operated. The local business developed and to be developed upon the new railway should render the enterprise a profitable one, independent of any through traffic. When the new road is completed, the distance over it between Denver and Salt Lake City will be more than one hundred miles shorter than by any other route, and the grades and alignment upon this railway will be more favorable than upon any other railway crossing the Continental Divide in Colorado.

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway Company,
By DAVID H. MOFFAT,
President.

Subscriptions will be received by

THE INTERNATIONAL TRUST COMPANY,
Equitable Building, DENVER, COLO.

WHITNEY NEWTON AND JUDGE N. W. DIXON

Spoke to Big Gathering of Republicans at Colorado City Last Night.

TURNING INTEREST INTO THE STATE TREASURY

Not a Matter on Which Former Treasurer Carlile Had any Option, Says Mr. Newton----Other Candidates Included in List of Speakers.

Whitney Newton of Pueblo Republican candidate for state treasurer last night delivered an address at Colorado City in which he showed up some of the [illegible] claims of the Democrats respecting the office of state treasurer in their true light. Mr Newton particularly paid his respects to the claim that James N Carlile his Democratic opponent was the first state treasurer to turn over to the state the interest on the public moneys—the claim that Mr Carlile had instituted that custom and subsequent treasurers had followed it out.

Mr Newton showed that Mr Carlile had simply done his duty—that he was the first treasurer after the passage of the law requiring the payment of the interest to the state and that his successors had followed out the custom because they would have been guilty of a penal offense had they failed to do so.

Judge N. Walter Dixon [illegible] the district court of the [illegible] judicial district [illegible] Pueblo [illegible] evening and his address came up to all expectations. He was obliged to leave the city at [illegible] o'clock [illegible] make an address of about [illegible] duration in which he kept [illegible] at a high pitch of enthusiasm all the time.

The meeting was the second big Republican demonstration in [illegible] City, and it brought out a [illegible] which packed Waycott hall. It was [illegible] thusiastic crowd too and thoroughly in sympathy with the speakers. The stage in the hall had been very appropriately decorated for the [illegible] flags and bunting being draped about in a tasty manner. A framed picture of President Roosevelt surmounted the stage flanked on either side by pictures of the martyred presidents Lincoln and McKinley. J. B. Goff acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced the various speakers who occupied seats on the stage. There were a large number of ladies in the big audience.

A band enlivened matters before the beginning of the meeting and a male quartet sang the old favorite "Sing Me a Song of the Sunny South" as a preliminary to the speaking. Chairman Goff announced that on Saturday October 25, there will be a reception given by the ladies of Colorado City to Mrs Anna M Brandt Republican candidate for superintendent of schools at Knights of Pythias hall from 3 to 7 and all are invited to attend. He also announced that there will be another rally at Colorado City on the evening of November 4.

James Owen of Cripple Creek candidate for state senator from the Third district was the first speaker introduced. Mr Owen stated that if elected he pledged himself to do the very best in his power for the interests of the people. He would not be like the Democratic candidate he said who when asked if he were sent to the senate if he would follow the example of other members of the legislature and plunder the public purse replied that he proposed to make no pledges of any sort—a tale which aroused a hearty laugh. Mr Owen said he would stand fairly and squarely upon the Republican platform a platform which means progress and prosperity.

Frank G Frewen of Goldfield candidate for representative said that the Republican party in honoring him with the nomination had paid a much greater tribute to the toiling masses of the state than it had to himself. He said that all his life he has made his living with his hands and he is thoroughly and heartily in sympathy with the workingman. He paid a high tribute to Governor Odell of New York for his stand in the coal strike which aroused great applause and also to President Roosevelt. He said the Democratic legislatures have not created a single law of benefit to the masses and if elected he pledged himself to vote only for such measures as are of benefit to the people.

John A. McLeod of Cripple Creek simply stated that if elected he would do the best he could to fulfill the duties of legislator in accordance with the will of the people and for the good of the people.

Charles M. Kinsley of Goldfield candidate for representative said he hoped to see such a vote come from this county for the Republican ticket as to swamp Teller county so that it will never know that it is tied to El Paso. He also pledged himself to good government in the execution of his duties as legislator if elected.

Chairman Goff in introducing the next speaker stated that he was one of the few Republicans who had dared face the music the other night when ex-Governor Thomas spoke at Colorado City. He said that Mr Thomas in mentioning Mr Carlile the Democratic candidate for state treasurer wanted to know who was running against him. He took great pleasure therefore said Mr Goff in introducing the next treasurer of the state and Mr Carlile's opponent Whitney Newton of Pueblo.

Mr. Newton was greeted with great applause when he advanced to the center of the stage. While Mr Newton is not a public speaker and admits it at first hand, his very appearance is pleasing to an audience. He is a big hale and hearty looking man, with a prosperous air about him, an air which indicates that he has succeeded in his own business and gives the impression by his very demeanor that he will succeed with other people's business if he puts himself to it. He looks exactly what he is, the business man of big affairs.

My Newton prefaced his remarks by mentioning the fact that he was probably known to many of the old timers in the audience because years ago he drove a wagon carrying passengers over the road that is now Colorado Avenue. He remembered that it then seemed a very long road, too, especially when it was muddy. He said that the audience could hardly expect a man who was to be state treasurer—"And I expect to be treasurer of this state," he said—to make much of a talk. "They say money talks," said the speaker. "I'll do the talking after I get the money." He then proceeded to read his speech, which was in part as follows:

"My opponent on the Democratic state ticket is Mr. Carlile and his deputy. Both are fellow townsmen and friends. I would not say anything against them if I could. What I must say, however, in justice to myself and to the people [illegible] of their friends.

[illegible] Mr Carlile [illegible] that he had instituted the custom [illegible] of turning over to the state the interest on the public moneys.

What are the facts? You have but to read the session laws of 1891 page 300 [illegible] that a Republican legislature [illegible] which [illegible] the state treasurer to turn over to the state all moneys collected as interest and made it a penal offense to do otherwise.

Mr Carlile was the first treasurer under this law which he and all subsequent treasurers have likewise obeyed. The credit for the custom which Mr Carlile claims should be given to the Republican legislature and to a Republican governor John L. Routt.

The same [illegible] says that Mr Carlile should have been paid $6,000 per year for his services. It was not [illegible] of his that he did not receive it. He tried to collect it and when the attorney general said no he carried the case to the supreme court which he also found of the same opinion as the attorney general.

The [illegible] that he instituted the custom of turning over to the state the interest collected is deception but the card which I hold in my hand is still greater deception. It is the political card of Mr Carlile now being generally circulated and has printed on the reverse side as follows:

James N. Carlile's Record as State Treasurer copied from George's Weekly Denver Colo Sept 27 1902.

Elected 1890. Term expired 1892.

Interest collected on state funds and paid into state treasury by James N Carlile during term $36 [illegible]

Following is the record of his successors:

Albert Nance during term	$12,[illegible] 66
H. E. Mulnix during term	12,068 44
G. W. Kephart during term	14,598 11
J. H. Lessler during term	14,[illegible]
D. Ripley during term (last incumbent)	28 [illegible]

[illegible] above are the exact figures from the books in the state treasurer office. Look at them carefully and note the vast difference in favor of Mr Carlile the present nominee for state treasurer.

This statement would lead any one not understanding or desiring to investigate the conditions [illegible]

All the treasurers subsequent to Carlile have acted under the same law. No one has claimed that any one of them has not turned in to the state all the interest collected.

What then is the reason that Carlile collected so much more interest? A very natural one—the quarterly reports filed by Carlile show an average balance on hand during his term of upwards of $600,000. Similar quarterly reports of the other treasurers show average balances on hand of about $400,000. Carlile received four per cent interest while subsequent treasurers received two and one half per cent only on open accounts.

It is said that Carlile should have used his large balance for the calling of warrants, which were drawing six per cent interest while he was only receiving four per cent at the banks. I do not make this statement as I have not seen the books but I do say that it is but justice to subsequent treasurers and to Mr Carlile or to myself if elected, that the people should understand just why the interest payments of one treasurer may exceed those of another. Carlile or any other treasurer is not accountable for having on hand a larger or smaller amount of money unless it be that he should fail to call warrants when the funds will permit.

The extra large amount of Mr. Carlile's cash balance is readily explained when you know that he sold $310,000 of capitol building bonds at the outset and carried a goodly portion of that fund through his term. He also had $150,000 of the appropriation of the Seventh general assembly, which owing to litigation remained in his hands during his term. Such conditions are neither faults nor virtues of a treasurer.

It can also be noticed from Mr Carlile's card that Mr Nance his successor [illegible]

[illegible] Seventh general assembly [illegible]

When [illegible] Carlile [illegible]

[illegible] That Mr [illegible] the [illegible] state [illegible]

[illegible] Mr Newton [illegible] his [illegible] heartily [illegible]

Judge N. Walter Dixon the speaker of the evening [illegible] [illegible] the attention of the audience [illegible] the campaign now [illegible] it the most important in the history of Colorado. It was said to be a struggle between the Democrats and the Republicans. Nominally that is the situation but in reality it is a struggle between a party of principle and a rotten political machine whose aim [illegible] send someone to the state senate. It was a struggle between [illegible] right and wrong.

Judge Dixon pronounced the Republican ticket the [illegible] ever placed before the people of the state of Colorado. The [illegible] political [illegible] on the ticket. When the Republican convention the greatest [illegible] assembled in the state [illegible] they found one [illegible] very name [illegible] token [illegible] Three [illegible] he said despite politicians and political [illegible] that prince of men James H Peabody. Mr Peabody's name was greeted with great applause.

There are two sides to this controversy, said Judge Dixon. It is a contest of the lawabiding people of the state against the might of their wealth against political tricksters and gangsters. He said that the Republicans opponents are trying with commendable [illegible] to divert the attention of the people from home issues are trying to take them to Washington to Cuba to the Philippine islands. The greatest [illegible] the history of the nation has just been concluded [illegible] the speaker. What was done by McKinley was ratified by the great American people and what was [illegible] by McKinley is being carried on by President Roosevelt. The names of McKinley and Roosevelt being greeted by applause [illegible] drowned the speaker's voice. Our flag now floats over Puerto Rico with the consent of the governed over Hawaii half way to the orient he said and there are teeming millions of the vast orient to be educated.

Then in a brilliant flight of oratory Judge Dixon made the prediction that the iron and steel which will build the railroads of China Japan and other countless of the far east lie buried today in the hills of Colorado. The poet had said that westward the star of empire takes its way and there were many in the audience who will live to see the time when the metropolis of the country will have moved from Manhattan to the Golden Gate when Colorado will be the Pennsylvania of the country when Denver would be the Philadelphia and Pueblo the Pittsburg of the west.

Judge Dixon then discussed national questions at considerable length.

He pointed out how the Democrats at the beginning of the Cuban war hovered like vultures over the battlefields how they had even attacked the commissary department, and had tried to ride to power on canned meat and canned soup. The war in the Philippines is over, the speaker declared excepting for a little guerrilla warfare the same as was had with the Indians, yet the Democracy was still trying to make capital of it. But their strongest point declared Judge Dixon the one out of which they are trying to make the greatest capital is the fact that there are more poor people than there are rich. He discussed the trust problem and said that it was a menace to public interests but what was the solution? Senator Patterson, he understood had explained the solution in his Victor address but he had never heard of Senator Patterson introducing any bill in the senate to relieve the situation, although he had found time to make several hundred speeches about the effect of the water cure on the anatomy of a Filipino. Neither had he ever heard of Teller or Bell or Honest John Shafroth introducing such a bill. He then went on to show the utter impossibility of governing the trusts with state and government jurisdictions existing and overlapping. The gravest minds in the country were studying the question. It was one which was before President Roosevelt and his cabinet before congress and would be before the people whether a constitutional amendment shall regulate such matters.

The speaker traced the history of the government from the time of the revolutionary war through the time of Jefferson the dreamer through Abraham Lincoln's administration and he challenged the world to show such a period of wonderful development as has taken place from Lincoln's time down to the present day. He said the Democratic explanation for it was that providence is with us.

He then turned his attention to the great coal strike. What a picnic that was for the Democrats he said. What a great time for the Democratic stump orators. It was the old old game of arraying labor against class the rich against the poor. But they didn't see the handwriting on the wall. The Republican party was responsible for the strike of course. The Republican party is responsible for everything for cyclones, for [illegible] eruptions—[illegible] to the Republican party. They will ever find the solution of this [illegible] question. Who [illegible] party [illegible]

He referred to the great A. R. U. strike of '94 when [illegible] of union men were being taken through to the fact that Denver in charge of United States marshals. He declared that these marshals were Democrats the the federal troops who protected them did so under Democratic rule. He [illegible] however the speaker said that the Democratic party or [illegible] were responsible for [illegible] but the same logic which charged the coal strike to the Republican party [illegible] the Democrats of responsibility for [illegible] No one was responsible for either however. They were those incident to [illegible] which [illegible] and it is a good thing that they do [illegible] the [illegible] of life is at [illegible] to be so as long as human nature is as it is.

Judge Dixon paid a high tribute to the workingman and then turned his attention to state issues. In a whimsical manner he paid his respects to Senator [illegible] to the state representatives [illegible] and the audience was kept in a roar of laughter. He urged the people to send men to Washington who will have a part in the administration of the affairs of the nation. He discussed Democratic administrations for the past six years in Colorado particularly those of Adams and Thomas and then he turned his verbal Gatlings loose upon the Thirteenth general assembly. He protested, he said against the governorship of the state of Colorado being used as a stool to boost someone into the United States senate or to be occupied by a catspaw for someone with senatorial ambition. He paid a tribute to Mr Peabody and closed his address by a stirring exposition of the qualifications and the duties of American citizenship.

A FOXY GRANDPA CAMPAIGN.

THE CASUAL reader of the Denver News might easily be impressed with the idea that the political policy of that leader of Democratic sentiment in Colorado had been borrowed from the special funny feature of its Sunday syndicate service

The News is as clever in dodging arguments as some of the Hearst characters in getting out of troubl

The Republicans are claiming that the Democratic senators and representatives never did and never can do anything to promote or defend Colorado interests because that party is hopelessly in the minority and will certainly continue so for at least four years more

But, says the News editor there are measures pending that are very dangerous and they may be passed by Republican votes

Therefore, (?) Colorado voters should deprive themselves of any possible chance of successful opposition to these measures

The Republicans are claiming that the state government has been so grossly mismanaged that even such Democratic papers as the News have felt compelled to protest against Democratic dishonesty corruption fraud and incompetence

But, says Foxy Grandpa some Democratic union labor men have declared that the labor record of some Republican candidate is not faultless

The Republicans call attention to the fostering of vice and crime by the Democratic Tammany organization in Denver and quote Democratic authority to prove that this condition exists with the knowledge and approval of the Democratic state ring which controlled the state convention and dictated its nominees

But says the News there are Republicans in the state who do not believe in woman suffrage

Now it cannot be possible that the News really believes that these tricks and dodges are going to make votes in favor of the gangsters whom it denounced daily every morning until the convention and whom it is now supporting

But it must say something, and the facts are so evident, the issues so clear and its own record upon them so plainly before the people of the state that it has no opportunity to follow any other course than the one it is taking

And there are doubtless some readers of the News a good many of them in fact who feel that they cannot possibly vote the Democratic ticket this year unless the News or someone else gives them some shadow of an excuse with which they may delude their intelligence and stupefy their conscience

The Democrats in Colorado this year are not fighting to make prisoners but only to keep down the desertions as much as possible

The Foxy Grandpa style of campaign is not the best kind of politics, by any means but really the News is making a very good sort of a fight under the circumstances.

THE DISAPPEARANCE OF IMPERIALISM.

THE DEMOCRATIC platform of 1900 has already taken its place in the files of humorous literature.

In that year the representatives of what was gravely alleged to be a great national party got together in due form at Kansas City Mo., on the 4th day of July, and set forth a statement of principles in which among other things the following declaration is made

"The importance of other questions now pending before the American people is in no wise diminished and the Democratic party takes no backward step from its position on them but the burning issue of imperialism, growing out of the Spanish war involving the very existence of the republic and the destruction of our free institutions, we regard as the paramount issue of the campaign.

In spite of this solemn and pathetic warning the American people obstinately refused to "irremble on the brink"

They went ahead and elected a Republican president and vice-president by the most sweeping majority recorded in American political history, together with a congress that was so strongly Republican that the principal political issues of the country ever since have been debated in the Republican caucus rather than in the open house.

And wonderful to relate, thus far there has been no indication whatever of any injury to the "very existence of the republic," or of the "destruction of our free institutions." At the present time it is extremely doubtful whether upon the "paramount issue" of imperialism the Democratic party could carry as many precincts in the United States as were carried by Grover Cleveland in 1888 upon his paramount issue (brand of 1892) of free trade.

The big joke of the Democratic platform of 1900 was the paramount issue selected by the Democrats themselves, but there is another one that is almost equally as good

"We oppose militarism. It means conquest abroad and intimidation and oppression at home. It means the strong arm which has ever been fatal to free institutions. It is what millions of our citizens have fled from in Europe It will impose upon our peace loving people a large standing army and unnecessary burden of taxation, and would be a constant menace to their liberties. . . . For the first time in our history and coeval with the Philippine conquest there has been a wholesale departure from our time honored and approved system of volunteer organization We denounce it as unamerican undemocratic and unrepublican and as a subversion of the ancient and fixed principles of a free people

But the American people were quite as skeptical toward the bugaboo of militarism as they were toward that of imperialism They elected McKinley and Roosevelt and a Republican congress The president of the United States was assassinated by an anarchist and Theodore Roosevelt the cowboy and rough rider the hero of San Juan hill and the incarnation of the Democratic idea of militarism assumed the presidency The Republican congress in spite of Democratic opposition, passed legislation giving the United States a standing army sufficient to deal with the pressing problems of national defense and of the pacification of the Philippines Yet with the broad road to ruin invitingly open before it and with no Democratic obstacles effectively in its way the American people under the guidance of the Republican party obstinately refused to precipitate itself into the awful abyss before it and the outcome of the whole matter up to date is to be found in a brief press dispatch from Washington announcing that an order is in course of preparation at the War Department reducing the army to the minimum of 5,000 men provided for in the present law

These matters must certainly appear very funny to any impartial student of recent history but they will not deter the next Democratic national convention from making just as portentous and just as sapient pronouncement upon whatever may be elected as the paramount issue for the time being

BRYAN TO THE RESCUE.

BRYAN is coming to Colorado to save it with a special train and a brass band There must be a scare on with the Democratic leaders when they ring up the curtain with so expensive an attraction as The Peerless One In former campaigns he has come to Colorado for the pleasure of showing himself to the masses of the unterrified Democracy but this time his mission is a serious one It is to save a remnant of that once great Democratic majority which has been reduced to the vanishing point

Just why he deserts Nebraska at this juncture isn't explained by the Democratic managers

Is it possible that his own state where they know him best is hopelessly Republican?

Perhaps Bryan has already saved it as he did in the last presidential election

At that time he saved it to the tune of ... Republican majority Wherever he drew the largest crowds and made the most impassioned appeals to the down trodden and impoverished American citizen to arise in his might and vote for Bryan and liberty there the biggest Republican majorities were rolled up

His neighbors in Lincoln and throughout the state voted against him because they knew him well

The more he talked the clearer they saw that his political theories were false and impracticable and his knowledge superficial .

So they laughed and applauded and then went to the polls and voted him down

The Lincoln people have always believed that in becoming a political footlights favorite Mr Bryan robbed the theatrical stage of a star The glow of the lime light and the yells of the gallery are meat and drink to him

If he "saves" Colorado as he has Kansas and Nebraska the Republicans will give him the glad hand

But he will not ring up the curtain to any such audiences as he used to draw Bryan has changed and Colorado has changed in the last six years

He has proved himself a failure as a practical politician he has weakened and divided his party he has saved all the formerly Democratic states of the north and east for the Republicans

The day of the Bryan fetich worship in Colorado has passed away His dire predictions of woe and disaster to the country have come to naught and Americans are too practical and sensible to chase after a false prophet

On his former trips to Colorado he essayed the role of The Peerless Leader now he comes on the stage as "The Busted Phenomenon

He is not to be shown in the big cities but is billed for a tour of the provinces where a barnstormer is sure to draw a crowd In the small towns where the Democratic party used to have a cinch his is to do the long lost brother act and coax the Populist and Socialist lambs back into the fold

Bryan is "smooth" and Populists are gullible but they are not so simple as all that If Mr Bryan "saves" Colorado as successfully as he has the states farther east the Republicans will gladly pay him his fee of $200 a night and Colorado will once more line up where she belongs with the prosperous and progressive states which support the policies of President Roosevelt

So far the Republican representatives of the beet sugar districts have been able to block the efforts of those members of the party who mistakenly believe that this nation is in honor bound to sacrifice the American beet sugar makers in behalf of the Cuban planters This is a matter in which Colorado is directly concerned and we should send Republicans to Washington to help the beet sugar Republicans and not send representatives there who can only help the Democratic minority do nothing

"The Populists and Socialists, shrieks a Democratic exchange are the hired allies of the Republicans Of course that is nonsense and nobody knows it better than the Populists and Socialists But how about the years in which the Populists and Socialists served the Democracy faithfully and were never paid for it? It's a pretty mean man, isn't it who will quit his job just because he doesn't get his wages? No wonder the Democrats are mad about it

It is surprising how much more reasonable the mine workers of Pennsylvania were than some of their self appointed advisers wished them to be Some politicians seemed to care little whether the people had coal or not so long as the agitation continued. And that is also the Democratic attitude toward the trusts. That party is terribly opposed to the trusts but is not at all in favor of any practicable plan of suppressing them.

The Bucklin amendment seems to be steadily losing strength in the course of the campaign In the beginning it attracted considerable curiosity on account of its novelty, but the more the people see of it the less they like it. It cannot do anyone any good, and it would certainly do a great many people a great deal of harm

The Institute street car line will "fill a long felt want" It ought to have been built long ago, and it would be pretty hard to give a satisfactory reason why it has not been.

The United States will not get the Danish West Indies in the immediate future, but very fortunately we can get along nicely without them.

THE LEGEND OF THE DEVIL-WAGON.

On a modern Megissogwon
He the Manito of Riches
A magician very skillful
When with potent grape juice loaded
In a wild and awful moment
He conceived a wondrous creature
Thing of steel and steam and rubber,
Swifter than the swiftest engine
O'er the crowded highway flying
Shrieking hissing evil smelling
Passing like a flash of fire
So that folk should gaze astounded
At this thing his great achievement
And he launched it on the highway
Sent it swifter than the arrow
Spread upon the air its stenches
And its sudden frightful shrieking
And to guide it he selected
One of Satan's choicest spirits
Flaming red the thing was painted
Red the color of Blood twas painted
And it swept adown the highway
Ever swift and swifter speeding
Down among the quiet people
Sent them wildly madly fleeing
Knocking them in all directions
Arms and legs and strong ribs breaking
Crushing out their very life breath
Making horses wild with terror
Till they tried to climb the fences
Tried to clamber to the house roofs
To escape the hideous monster
Megissogwon only gloated
And the guide the chosen spirit
Of the devil gloated with him
Laughed when people justly angered
Tried to stop his reckless flying
Laughed and tossed them yellow coins
Laughed and went his way unhindered
Went his way of death and ruin
Went his way ever help smiling
Never once he looked behind him
At the trail of blood he left there
At the wreckage he had scattered
Up and down the quiet highway
Closed his eyes to maddened horses
Shut out scenes of death and suffering
Closed his ears to cries and groanings
Of the maimed and mortal-wounded
Took no heed of threats or prayers
Only laughed and threw his yellow
Gold to those arrayed against him
Threw them gold and was contented
Threw them gold and went on laughing

This is why then all good people
Left unkilled by this dread monster
Speak no more of automobiles
But have dubbed them devil wagons

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

John Mitchell's Answer

(Chicago Journal)

There are some points about John Mitchell's terse but perfectly natural letter to the president that are worthy of attention

Having won a victory over the operators some degree of exultation is pardonable but he does not press it unduly He resents and properly resents the treatment he received at the hands of the coal presidents when first summoned to meet with President Roosevelt but he bears no malice toward them on that account They had equally refused to treat with the president or accept his proposal of arbitration so that he feels that the president can fully appreciate his attitude toward them

The principles laid down by Mr Mitchell however will meet with the general approval of the American people and their moderation will commend them to all right thinking people There are as follows

1 Fair wages and just conditions of labor conditions just to both operators and miners We have never made demands beyond the ability of the industry to pay on a basis of equitable division of profits between labor and capital

2 Amicable relations between employers and employes the latter speaking through their organization and their organization aiding the companies in maintaining discipline adjusting all difficulties by conciliatory methods averting local strikes and lockouts and securing stable and satisfactory conditions to the industry

Against neither of these propositions has any person a right to contend, but the second is of the highest importance All workmen are worthy of their hire and should have their fair share of the results of their labor when combined with capital but it is of still greater moment that the relations between employers and employes should be lose amicable and mutually advantageous Conciliation, not force should influence them and thus through harmony and with the constant desire for the common welfare conflicts between labor and capital would be avoided and strikes and lockouts be unknown

In taking this ground President Mitchell has commended himself more than ever to the great public which has been the third party to this controversy and which has suffered because it comes between the upper and nether millstones Nevertheless it is the opinion of that public that has brought about this arbitration for it was upon that that President Roosevelt leaned in his determination to bring this contest to a close

Mr Mitchell has shown supreme ability in his conduct of this affair from beginning to end, and his moderation will win for him the still greater approval of his countrymen

The Old Management

The fact that the balance of trade in favor of the United States in the last six years was more than $500,000,000 greater than the cost of the hardest fought and most expensive war in history, strikingly illustrates the growth of this nation and the extent of American prosperity In six years, in spite of a foreign war and a domestic rebellion that cost us over $400,000,000 our net earnings from our foreign trade have exceeded the cost of our civil war by more than half a billion dollars

We are soon to choose some new directors for this firm in which we all are shareholders In the light of the record of the last six years it would seem that none of us ought to have any doubt of the advisability of continuing the old management It has done well, and on its record may safely appeal to the shareholders for indorsement —(Inter Ocean

To Statesmen Out of a Job

Well gentlemen what do you want? A change? Nominate your poison State the remedy for a general condition of prosperity probably unexampled in this or any other country How to introduce paralysis in the commercial world how to stop the hum of machinery how to reduce the demand for products of all sorts how to increase wants and diminish the means of satisfying them how to kill industry to grow paupers to fill charitable institutions and empty workshops—these are some of the questions to which the massive minds of statesmen out of a job are now exclusively devoted

The cup in the dark has been tried before The man who tries it knows when he strikes the solid earth In proportion to the distance he has to fall is the jar when he stops going down Prudent men don't leap in the dark They don't leap at all after they have reached a certain age Old bones are brittle It is easy to jump down It is terribly hard to jump up —(Chicago Tribune

Camping Out

Do not burden yourself with unnecessary things when you go a camping says Country Life in America You will be surprised to find how much you can do without and how cheap your living may be Secure a light tent particularly if you are to move from place to place It is usually handier to hang it from the ridge pole by a rope of cord for then it is easier to pitch than one which requires the ridge pole to be placed under the canvas particularly in wet and stormy weather Have the tent as small as possible and reduce bedding to mere blankets—unless you are to remain in one place

Eating is a small part of camping out Eat by snatches Row or tramp by hours The wild creatures eat when they can Leave your naphtha at home If you intend to push on into the wilderness your cooking utensils should be few and simple A light frying pan a stout tin pail of three quarts capacity and for each person a small tin cup a tin plate and a spoon and a stout pocket knife—these were the all sufficient utensils for a party of three who pushed beyond the frontier settlements They are unbreakable and are easily washed If water is not at hand they may be scoured with dry sand or ashes and they are always insensible to the cleansing effects of heat at the campfire

The eatables on this outing consisted of a ham a small sack of flour two or three cans of compressed baked beans salt pepper sugar and coffee Crackers and cookies will not stand such journeys When finally all these articles had vanished except the coffee the party was just as happy for there were fish in the streams animals in the woods and berries in the glades

The clothing should be simple strong and warm It pays to buy good materials Stout long legged boots heavy duck ing overalls and frock and a coarse soft hat are the essentials for men who are expecting to get the most from the camping out If not going too far a change of underwear is desirable, but if one is to travel with pack and to portage from stream to stream the luxury of two suits may be dispensed with—there are places where one may do laundry work The frock should have three or four ample pockets on the outside It one is going far he should carry a very small compass—one an inch and a quarter across may be sufficient—and should have a narrow deep pocket to hold it To all this add a good woolen blanket

Do not go for looks and do not be afraid of soiling your clothes Lie on the grass in the sand on the rocks—where you will so far as clothes are concerned Do not be a slave to clothes A little dirt does no harm You can make a bed of soft twigs of leaf—spruce tips are excellent—grass straw shreds of bark or you can roll up in your blanket and lie on the earth and be the better for it Do not be squeamish if insects crawl over you Let them go Do not dream of snakes and bears You will be thankful you are not your camping out is not worth the while—and therefore forget and sleep Do not be afraid of catching cold Was it not Washington Irving who caught cold the first night he slept in a room after week of camping on the prairies?

What Will Be Left For Man?

This account of a class contest at Northwestern university which recently appeared in print is suggestive

Climbing a five story fire escape and creeping 50 feet along the cornice of Willard hall at a dizzy height from the ground three coeds of the Northwestern university tore down the flaunting banner of a rival class yesterday morning Another daring coed a few hours later mounted to the roof of Sheridan cottage and when her means of descent was removed slid a feet down a rope provided by her confederates to safety

Here the middle aged reader will be sure the entire absence of that trembling timidity which characterized the feminity girl of his youthful years No reference is made to what was once supposed to be the inherent nature of the sex to cling to a solid object as if transfixed in the presence of real or imaginary danger

Nothing is said about blanched cheeks bloodless lips dilated pupils There is not a hint of a scream It is taken for granted that the young women who climbed the fire escape and crept along the narrow ledge of a cornice 50 feet from the ground did not experience a single maidenly tremor

The presence of a seminary girl on a narrow ledge 50 feet above the ground half a century ago would have caused the ringing of the town bell and the calling out of the volunteer fire department There would have been a frantic, swaying throng around the college Rescue parties would have been organized Agonized men would have been rushing hither and thither with ropes and bed spreads And after the rescue half the women in the community would have been carried home and treated for nervous prostration But times are going or already gone

Is it not within the bounds of probability if one judge the future by the past that 50 years more will completely revolutionize our present relations with the sexes? If the girl student of today court danger and excel in feats of strength and endurance what may we expect of her granddaughter? Will not she supersede the fireman and policeman? Will not she supersede the soldier and sailor? Will it not be a question rather how many women than how many men the nation can put in the field?

Will not the middle of the twentieth century, or at least, the beginning of the twenty-first, see women performing most of the duties that are now supposed to belong exclusively to man?

Or, to put the case inversely is not man by giving woman her present opportunities of physical as well as moral and intellectual development paving the way for his own end?—(Chicago Inter Ocean
